CITY OF BERKELEY LOOKS LIKE A WINNER

GREAT CHANCE TO WIN THE CAPITAL FIGHT

Senate Is Polled and Found in Favor of Propositon to Remove Capital.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—This city will have the fight of its life to retain the title of capital of California.

For many years various efforts have been made to remove the capital but none of them were taken seriously; but this time the Sacramento people have the fight of their lives on hand. It will be a battle to a finish and the way the matter stands today Berkeley has an excellent chance to capture the prize.

The Berkeley people have gone at the matter in a systematic way and already they have put up such a fight as to stagger the Sacramentans.

The removal of the capitol is now being more talked about than any law before the Legislature. All the legislators are buzzing on the subject and there is every likelihood that the Berkeley men will win the contest.

Senator Frank W. Leavitt has given the Sacramentans their first heavy jolt by announcing that he has made a personal canvass of the sentiment of the members of the upper house and finds that only eleven Senators are against the removal of the capital.

It will not, however, be such clear sailing in the lower house, because it is expected that the vote here will be very close. Up to the present time the Berkeleyans seem to have the Sacramentans on the run.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES AGAINST LOCAL MILLINERS FOLLOWS INVESTIGATION

Labor Commissioner Asserts That Many of the Girls in Oakland Have to Work for Nothing.

The astounding discovery that a large proportion of the work of the millinery business is done by girls who received not one cent for their services has led to the appointment of a committee from the Central Labor Council of Alameda to investigate the status of the working woman in this city and attempt to remedy it. The startling conditions were revealed from a letter State Labor Commissioner W. V. Stafford sent to Dr. E. R. Dille, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who first started the agitation for some improvement in the lot of young women forced to work in millinery establishments by his sensational disclosures from the pulpit.

The letter, showing that milliners' apprentices receive no wages and that the pay for more skilled help is inadequate, supports Dr. Dille's contention that women in this line of employment are frequently forced to sacrifice their character to keep soul and body together. Stafford's communication reads in part as follows:

"Nineteen millinery establishments in San Francisco employ 99 hatmakers; 13 of these establishments also show 22 hattrimmers; 9 of them have 43 milliners and 3 of them employ also 27 apprentices. The wages of 15 hatmakers are as low as $3 to $6 per week, while 35 of them are graded at $8, and $9 per week. The 22 hattrimmers range considerably higher, while the 43 milliners nearly all run up to what may be considered a living wage, and at least half of them obtain very good pay; the 27 apprentices, however, get no pay whatever.

"In eight millinery establishments in Oakland, with forty hatmakers, six range from $3 to $6 per week and twenty-two from $6 to $9 per week. The eight milliners employed in these establishments, as in San Francisco, get good wages. Two of these stores have apprentices and pay them no wages whatever."

Stafford adds: "This industry stands alone in its attitude toward the apprentice, and when we take into consideration the fact that these young girls are employed for a short season only, as apprentices, and as a consequence must seek other employment at the close of a busy season, it is more than probable that but a small percentage of [illegible] the same work the next season. Consequently each year this industry manages to avail itself of the services of a large number of young girls for no pay whatever.

"With a knowledge of the difference between the cost of material of this industry and its output, and also information as to the low wages paid to the great mass of labor in the millinery establishments, it is the very decided opinion of every one connected with this office that this particular industry is the least considerate toward female employes of any industry in the State."

JEROME FAILS TO CONFUSE THE WITNESS

Young Mrs. Thaw Is Able to Explain Her Past Testimony.

NEW YORK, FEB. 25.—DURING THE CONTINUANCE TODAY OF HIS CROSS-EXAMINATION OF EVELYN NESBIT THAW, DISTRICT ATTORNEY JEROME CONFRONTED THE WITNESS WITH DR. CARLTON FLINT, AND ASKED IF SHE HAD NOT BEEN TO SEE HIM WITH JACK BARRYMORE.

MRS. THAW LOOKED AT THE DOCTOR, HESITATED A MINUTE AND THEN DECLARED SHE HAD NEVER SEEN HIM BEFORE.

MR. JEROME SEEMED TO HAVE MADE LITTLE PROGRESS AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE MORNING SESSION. AS A MATTER OF FACT HE HAD ENABLED MRS. THAW TO EXPLAIN SOME THINGS WHICH HAD LAST WEEK APPEARED AGAINST HERSELF AND THE DEFENDANT.

SHE DENIED HAVING USED ANY MONEY FROM WHITE'S LETTER OF CREDIT WHILE ABROAD, AND DENIED THAT THE CABLING TO WHITE BY HER MOTHER AND HERSELF FROM LONDON HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH HER GOING TO EUROPE WITH THAW.

SHE DECLARED THE CABLES REFERRED TO A MATTER BETWEEN HER MOTHER AND AN ATTACHE OF THE AMERICAN EMBASSY, WHO, SHE SAID, "SNEAKED UP TO MY MOTHER'S BEDROOM AND INSULTED HER."

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was called to the stand at the opening of today's session of her husband's murder trial, and without any preliminary statement, District Attorney Jerome plunged into the cross-examination.

Mrs. Thaw looked refreshed after her three days' respite, and answered the first questions confidently.

Thaw brought with him from the Tombs several packages of letters and papers.

Mr. Jerome, as upon the previous days, continued to jump about from point to point in the witness' story. He first asked if she had not had trou-

HARRIMAN EXPLAINS SALE OF HILL RAILWAY STOCKS

Were Unjustly Forced on Him by the Supreme Court and Did Not Return Enough Business.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Inquiry developed the fact that after the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, dissolving the Northern Securities Company, the interest of the Union Pacific Company in that corporation was returned to them in shares of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies. These subsequently were sold, as Mr. Harriman explained, because the revenues derived from them were limited, and the proceeds were invested in stock of the Illinois Central, the Santa Fe and the Baltimore & Ohio companies.

"In the first place," said Mr. Harriman, "we had as the result of the Northern Pacific purchase $82,000,000 of Northern Securities stocks at a cost of $79,000,000. Our annual report, our statements all show that. We were forced to take by the decision of the Supreme Court, unjustly—it may have been legal—Great Northern, which we did not want, and a lesser amount of Northern Pacific than we had deposited with the Northern Securities Com-

TELLS OF CONFESSION IN THE DYNAMITE OUTRAGE

Wells Swears That Adams Told Him About "Bumping Off" Two Men in Idaho.

WALLACE, Idaho, Feb. 25.—The State closed its case against Steven Adams this morning, saving for the last hours the weighty testimony of Bulkeley Wells, former Adjutant General of Colorado, who told of the confession Adams made to him while the prisoner was en route from Boise to Colorado in the custody of Detective S. C. Thiele and Deputy Sheriff Johnson.

"Adams had been talking to me about the Independence explosion in the Cripple Creek district," testified General Wells. "I asked him where he had gone after the explosion and he said he had gone up to Idaho. He went up into the northern part of Idaho in the St. Joe river district and helped Simpkins 'bump off' two men who had been giving Simpkins trouble in connection with their timber claims."

General Wells testified that he was a member of the Mine Owners' Association. He said he had known Adams since May 27, 1906. He denied that any threat was made or inducement offered to Adams to secure the confession and stated that he was the only man who heard it.

MYSTERY SHROUDS THEFT IN CHICAGO U. S. SUB-TREASURY

Nearly $200,000 Is Stolen, No Arrests Yet Made and Many of the Facts Are Concealed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—One of the largest—if not the largest—thefts from the United States Treasury has been unearthed in Chicago. Somewhere between $175,000 and $200,000 was stolen from the local sub-treasury last week. The money has disappeared as completely as if it had vanished from the face of the earth.

The authorities here and in Washington have been working night and day on the robbery since it was discovered. Chief Wilkie, of the United States Secret Service, has been keeping informed by telephone and telegraph of every development, and, according to telegraphic advices, he will leave Washington today to take personal charge of the investigation.

Necessary for Police to Club San Francisco Citizen Into Unconciousness.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Because she refused to get up at five o'clock and cook her husband's breakfast, Josephine E. Anderson was horribly beaten by her husband, John Anderson, at their home, 25 Stanyan street. Officer White was attracted to the house by the yells of the woman and when he interfered, Anderson attacked him. White blew his whistle and two officers responded to the call. Anderson put up a terrible battle, and it was necessary to beat him into unconsciousness before he was subdued.

He was taken to the police station and locked up on a charge of battery, and also the charge of resisting an officer.

Chinaman and Greek in a Fight; Pot Is Overturned; Damage $5000

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—In a row between a Chinese dishwasher and a Greek cook, in the Mission Street Restaurant, at Eighteenth and Valencia streets, a large pot of boiling grease was turned over, which covered the stove and started a fire in the kitchen.

Before the engines could respond to the call, about $5000 damage had been done. For a time the entire block was threatened. No arrests were made.

DATE FOR RUEF'S TRIAL SET BY COURT

Charge of Extortion Will Be Taken Up by Judge Dunne March 5th.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Judge Dunne this morning set next Tuesday, March 5, as the day for the commencement of the trial of Abraham Ruef on the charge of extortion.

The case against Mayor Schmitz, who was to have entered his plea today, was continued until next Thursday, after Judge Dunne had directed the District Attorney to ascertain where Mayor Schmitz is at the present time and when he is likely to return to this city from the East.

He stated that if the Mayor had not returned by next Thursday proceedings should be taken to compel his return.

DRINK FOR PRETTY GIRL CAUSES FATAL SHOOTING

One Man Is Dead, Another Is Dying, as Result of Affray in Emeryville Hotel

In a drunken orgy yesterday afternoon in the Hastings Hotel, Emeryville, Charles Logue, an iron molder, thirty years of age, residing at 242 Helen street in this city, was shot to death and Peter Noppe, also an iron-molder, was probably mortally wounded. John Noppe, a brother of the wounded man, and Frank Calabese, the cook at the Hastings Hotel, are held at the city prison, suspected of being participants in the affray. The men were so intoxicated yesterday when arrested that they could tell but little of the tragedy. They were examined this morning by Detectives Quigley and Green, but their stories are much at variance. John Vanden-

POSTOFFICE CONTEST NOT YET SETTLED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The postoffice situation in Oakland is still in doubt, although it is thought Paul J. Schafer is still in the lead for the appointment of postmaster to succeed the late T. T. Dargie.

Only three names are being seriously considered for the position, viz: Paul J. Schafer, Emil Nusbaumer and S. T. Gage.

Several conferences have been held by Senator Perkins and Congressman Knowland, but they have not yet come to an agreement.

When all the petitions for the position are in, these two officials will decide on the new postmaster. It is expected that the appointment will be made tomorrow.

Telegrams are pouring in to Perkins and Knowland, and the wires are kept hot night and day. It is certain that no appointment will be made today.

LOVED WOMAN LAID TO REST

Mrs. Lucy Dam, With Simple Services, Is Interred Beside Musband.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucy Ellen Dam, widow of Alphonso Dam, who was well known on both sides of the bay, owing to her many charities and unselfish devotion to others, was held today at 11 o'clock from her late home, 493 Twenty-third street. The interment, which was private, was in Mountain View Cemetery. Rev. Homer J. Vosburgh, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of which the deceased was a prominent member, officiated at the services.

The funeral ceremonies were as simple as the life led by the decedent. Appropriate singing, a prayer and a brief eulogy comprised the ritual. The casket, covered with flowers sent by mourning friends, was placed in the parlor. Although the room was spacious, it was not large enough to accommodate the large number of floral offerings made by those who had been befriended by the deceased or had been honored by her acquaintance. The floral pieces, beautiful in the extreme, in general were typical of a life well spent. Autumn leaves and other emblems indicating life in its full completeness had been reached, were sent. The donors of the floral remembrances occupied all stations of life, among them being those who were beneficiaries of her bounty and those in the higher walk of society who had been charmed by the sweetness of her personality.

Rev. Mr. Vosburgh, who had been her pastor for many years, in the eulogy paid a touching tribute to the deceased. He said in part:

"The fullness and completeness of the life of the deceased was such that its influence will live long after death. The womanly and charitable qualities with which she was endowed, and with which she impressed her personality on the community are paragons after which others may well pattern. Her life was one of long and unselfish devotion. Her association with the Young Women's Christian Association of San Francisco, her identification for many years with the Ladies' Protection and Relief Society and her assumption of other duties along charitable lines has left its impress upon the community and her benefactions will be remembered for many years to come. She did not work for the glories of this world, but her life's labor was directly toward preparing for the eternity that was to come. Even in this hour of sadness and mourning, we can gather many helpful examples from her life which should be an inspiration to those present to devote themselves to preparing for the future which is to come. She had charity in abundance and a nobility of character which may well serve as a model. Her life was ripe and fully completed. The everlasting life promised to those who believe in Him is hers.

"To the surviving son, sympathy and condolence must go out; but there is solace for all in the thought that she has gone to the reward she so richly deserves for this life's work."

During the services the Larsen Quartette rendered the following selections admirably: "Abide With Me," "Abide With the Home of the Soul," and "Good Night."

After the services at the home the funeral cortege proceeded to Mountain View Cemetery, where the remains were placed in the family plot. Brief services at the grave were held. A husband and a son of the deceased had preceded her in death. Cleveland L. Dam, an attorney of San Francisco, is the only surviving child.

According to the wish of the deceased, there were no pallbearers.

SALE OF HILL STOCKS WAS NOT FOR SPECULATION, SAYS HARRIMAN

pany, and for which we received the Northern Securities stocks.

STOCK WAS FORCED.

"At the time that stock, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific, was given to us—forced upon us—it had a market value of about $100,000,000. I will go back just a minute. We had subscribed in the meantime to $5,000,000 of Great Northern stock, which had been offered to the stockholders, making the total cost of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific about $82,000,000. We held it until the market price increased in value to near $150,000,000. We sold part of it gradually as it went up, but at that value the returns from the Northern Pacific and Great Northern were less than 3 per cent on the stock we held. Therefore, we concluded that it was better to sell the stocks and invest the same money in other securities that would give us greater return."

CHICAGO & ALTON.

Mr. Harriman was questioned regarding the purchase of the Chicago & Alton, in 1901. Mr. Milburn, of Mr. Harriman's counsel, objected to this line of inquiry on the ground that it did not fall within the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"Much depends upon who fixed the market price of stocks in such transactions as that just named," said Chairman Knapp.

"If men could fix the market price and sell their own stock at that price, it was a transaction to be inquired into."

Mr. Harriman has said that he and his assistants fixed the price for the Chicago & Alton stock as a committee.

"Do you intend to say, Mr. Milburn, that you hold this commission has no right to ask whether Mr. Harriman was not himself an owner and seller of a part of that stock?"

QUESTION IMPROPER.

Mr. Milburn replied that he thought such a question quite improper.

The commission withheld its decision on this point before proceedings with the injury respecting the sale of the Alton stock to the Union Pacific.

Throughout the examination Mr. Harriman insisted that none of these transactions was speculative.

"I do not wish to give the impression that we have been speculating," he said. "The roads were bought for income, reinvestment of the proceeds of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific."

"Are they for permanent investment, or do you expect to sell them again?" asked Mr. Kellogg.

"I have no expectation about it," said Mr. Harriman. "I never thought of that. It is for the purpose of receiving six millions and a half dollars a year instead of three and a half millions," replied Mr. Harriman.

POWER CHALLENGED.

After the announcement of the chairman that the commissioners would privately discuss the challenge of their power to inquire into the identity of the vendors of the Alton stock, Attorney Kellogg resumed the development of the Alton stock which he characterized as the most conspicuous modern example of inflation. He tried to show by the witness that Harriman, George Gould, James Stillman and Mortimer Schiff had purchased the road for $40,000,000 an had rapidly expanded its capacity and outstanding indebtedness to $122,872,328. This he tried to show had been done first by placing a mortgage on the road for $40,000,000 and he tried to prove that the syndicate had sold the bonds to themselves for 65 cents upon the dollar and immediately re-sold ten millions of them to the New York Life Insurance Company at 86. He further tried to show that the syndicate holding the majority of the stock had declared a dividend of 30 per cent which was paid from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds. He also tried to show that $12,000,000 expended in betterments and improvements by the old management, charged against operating expenses was capitalized by the Harriman management.

PROGRESS MADE.

Mr. Kellogg had not made much progress along this line of questioning before the noon recess came.

Mr. Harriman said that he and the three men named were only the stockholders of record, and that in fact they represented a syndicate in which there were many others. The witness denied that he had anything to do with the sale of the bonds to the New York Life. He had forgotten most of the facts connected with the sale of the bonds and had no record of them. Harriman said the funds were issued to refund the old issue, which was at a higher rate of interest, and to put the road in better condition. He said the books of the Alton were incorrect when they showed that there was a surplus of less than $200,000 when the syndicate took charge.

Harriman was in excellent humor throughout the examination and engaged in several good natured railleries. He said before he left:

"I ought to be good natured; it's my birthday."

At the resumption of the hearing this afternoon Mr. Harriman was recalled and first examined as to the circumstances under which the accounts of the Alton company were recast, to show the previous expenditure of $12,000,000 on betterments and improvements. Mr. Kellogg endeavored to show that the Harriman group had really capitalized the losses of stockholders who had preceded them in the property by many years.

The witness was examined as to the acquisition of the Alton road. Mr. Kellogg endeavoring to show that the transfer was made through a "dummy."

Mr. Harriman could not recall the details and frequently referred his questioner to the records. The witness twice asked for an opportunity to make a full explanation of the Alton deal. The chairman said he would be heard at the conclusion of Mr. Kellogg's examination.

Louis Stanton was the man who made the proposal for the railroad company to take over the railway company. The witness said Stanton probably had no real interest in the property.

ARRAIGNED ON FORGERY CHARGE

The preliminary examination of Robert Bonsall, charged with forgery, was held in police court No. 2 this morning. Bonsall, it is alleged, forged several deeds, in an effort to sell property in this city which did not belong to him. The accused man, it is said, tried to swindle Taylor Brothers & Company, local realty dealers, by his fraudulent methods.

CITY FATHERS TO MEET TONIGHT

The committee of the whole of the city council will meet tonight to consider the applications of the Western Pacific, Santa Fe and Key Route for franchises to construct and operate industrial lines on Wood street in West Oakland. It is likely that several protests will be filed against the railroads petition by property owners and manufacturers on Wood street, who claim that the railroad tracks would infringe on their freighting facilities.

PASTOR ADVISES MEN TO VOTE

All men belonging to the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Oakland were advised last night by the Rev. Charles R. Brown, to join the Voters' League and give Oakland a good City Council. He declares some of the candidates who seek re-election are unfit to be city officers.

MEETS DEATH BEFORE TRAIN

Felix McCallig Probably Committed Suicide Yesterday Morning.

Throwing himself in front of a westbound eSventh-street local yesterday morning at Twenty-third avenue, Felix McCallig, fifty-five years of age, was almost instantly killed. McCallig's body was terribly mangled and the remains were removed to the Morgue, where an inquest will be held. The suicide resided at 833 Mission street, San Francisco.

McCallig was standing at the station with a number of other persons when the train approached. It is said that he deliberately walked in front of the fast-moving engine. tSate Railroad Policeman J. J. Fitzgerald was near McCallig at the time and he believes the man committed suicide.

PRETTY GIRL IS CAUSE OF SHOOTING

ploeg and Peter Hofster are being held as witnesses.

GIRL IS CAUSE.

It is said that Miss Jennie Murphy, a pretty waitress at the Hastings Hotel, was the innocent cause of the shooting. The trouble started in the barroom over a dispute as to who should pay for a drink for Miss Murphy. Calahese, it is said, interfered in behalf of the young woman and was set upon by the other men. He retreated to the kitchen and his assailants followed. They were all ejected from the kitchen.

Logue, the Noppe brothers and several others went to the room of the Noppes in the hotel annex. Shots soon rang out and when Deputy Sheriff Herbert Lee, who was passing the hotel at the time, ran up Logue staggered from the room and fell dead. Following him was John Noppe, with a revolver in his hand. Then Peter Noppe stumbled through the annex door, having received a charge of buckshot from a shotgun in Calahese's hands. The latter was standing near the kitchen door and asserts that he feared Noppe was coming after him.

DEFIED OFFICER.

Deputy Sheriff Lee endeavored to place John Noppe under arrest, but met with resistance, the desperate man attempting to turn his revolver on the officer. Peter Hofster went to Lee's assistance and the man was handcuffed and taken to jail, as were the other participants in the affray.

Logue's remains were taken to the morgue. He resided with his parents on Helen street. He was a brother of Henry Logue, who is scheduled to appear before the Reliance Club next Tuesday night in a fight with Willie Johnson.

Noppe, who was wounded, was taken to a hospital for treatment. He received a charge of buckshot in the right eye and breast. It is thought that he will recover.

The matter is to be sifted to the bottom by the local police. It is said that Miss Murphy, the young waitress, has disappeared, desiring to avoid notoriety in the matter.

MISSOURI JURIST PASSES AWAY

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 25.—John W. Wofford, Judge of the Criminal Court here since 1892, noted for the quaint philosophy that he injected into his decisions, died today after a long illness, aged 69. In a decision that won him fame he held that a wife had a right to go "through her husband's pockets." He said that when a man married he took this risk and conferred the prerogative upon his wife.

HUSBAND WINS OVER HIS WIFE

Herbert Henry Is Granted a Divorce on a Cross Complaint.

Although Mrs. Rosa B. Henry did not say her husband, Herbert Henry, called her vile names, put his muddy feet on the bed and beat her, she was not granted the interlocutory decree of divorce which she asked for. On the other hand, Judge Ogden granted the decree this morning to the husband on his cross-complaint, which alleged wilful desertion.

The couple were married in Missouri in 1884, but have been living in Berkeley. They have two children, Ernest, a boy of thirteen, and Jewel, a girl of six years. The former was given to the custody of the father, while Jewel will be taken care of by her mother, and Henry will contribute $10 a month toward that source. Henry is a carpenter.

CONFESSION IN DYNAMITE OUTRAGE

W. B. Chandler, from Marble Creek, was the first witness this morning. He testified that while in the Marble Creek district he attended a meeting of settlers at which the trouble with the claim jumpers was discussed and saw Jack Simpkins at that meeting. Simpkins, who is alleged to have been Adams' partner in killing the claim jumpers, and who is now a fugitive, was described by Chandler as about 6 feet tall, slightly stooped, weight about 190 pounds, thin black hair and a queer eye which seemed to look in the opposite direction from its mate. No effort was made to bring out testimony as to what took place at this meeting of settlers.

Adams has fully regained his remarkable self-possession and listens to all the evidence as calmly as if the clerk were merely reading a list of jurors. At times he smiled or even laughed and exhibits no sign of worry, though listening to the testimony with keen attention. His wife is constantly by his side and also shows no alarm.

YOUNG GIRL IS REPORTED MISSING

Mrs. Ellen Casey of 2328 Piedmont avenue, Berkeley, has reported to the local police that her niece, Gladys O'Hara, fourteen years of age, has run away from home. The young girl disappeared last Friday. She is five feet four inches in height, weighs 115 pounds and when last seen wore a brown plaid skirt, a black waist and a cap.

RUBBER BOOTS BRING DEATH

Drag William Dupre Beneath Surface of Slough at Warm Springs.

Failing to remove his long, heavy rubber boots yesterday afternoon when he attempted to swim across a slough near Warm Springs, William Dupre was drowned within sight of several friends, who were helpless to render aid. Dupre was on a clamming trip with his companions and he undertook to swim a fifty-foot stream of water. When twenty feet from the shore he sank after coming to the surface several times. The slough was dragged and the body recovered. Dupre was twenty-one years of age.

PARDEE WELCOMED BY THE MASONS

Former Governor George C. Pardee was welcomed home at a banquet held at Masonic temple at the conclusion of the regular meeting of Oakland Lodge, No. 180, F. and A. M., of which he is past master.

The address of welcome was made by Attorney Guy C. Earl, who expatiated on the delight with which all hailed the home-coming of Dr. Pardee, and the latter replied in a few brief, but expressive words, that showed his appreciation of the high regard in which he is held by his fellow townsmen. There were a number of impromptu speeches by Samuel P. Taylor, E. H. Morgan, H. A. Powell, Judge F. B. Ogden, C. B. Rutherford and others. Mr. Rutherford is one of the two surviving charter members of the lodge.

Contra Costa in Line for Removal of the Capital

MARTINEZ, Feb. 25.—The Contra Costa Gazette says:

The move that has been started for the removal of the State capital from Sacramento to Berkeley is a good one and should be heartily pushed along by everyone in this section of the State. There are many good reasons for making the change. Berkeley is the center of population of the State, it is easy of access, it is near the State University, it would obviate the necessity of many of the State officers being required to maintain offices in two places as they do at the present time. A large site overlooking the whole bay country will be donated to the State, and money will be raised for the erection of a new building.

The move that has been started by the business men of Alameda county is no pipe dream, and the people of Sacramento need not be surprised to wake up some morning and discover that it is no longer the seat of the State government.

A large delegation from Berkeley is already at Sacramento and its members are doing very effective work among the members of the Legislature. The representatives of this county could not do any better thing than to advocate and vote for the desired change.

Such a change would be the saving of thousands of dollars to the people of the State every year, and would place the State capital in a place that would be easy of access to all.

Push the project along, it is a good one.

Berkeley Certain It Can Win the State Capital

BERKELEY, Feb. 25.—The committee is enthusiastic over the outlook and the reports from Sacramento today are so encouraging that the boosters have gone to work harder than ever on the capital removal.

Communications are pouring in from all over the State giving the committee promises of assistance.

The visit of the legislators to this city has greatly strengthened the cause of Berkeley.

Louis Titus is still at Sacramento and is keeping in close touch with the committee.

Berkeley people are very much worked up over the situation today because they see a good chance of winning out.

Sacramento Chamber of Commerce Makes Reply

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—Letters have been exchanged between the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce of Sacramento regarding the moving of the capital site from Sacramento to Berkeley. The Berkeley organization asks the Sacramento association to give its support in causing the legislature to submit to the people a constitutional amendment, whereby Berkeley shall become the capital and the latter body answered in part as follows:

"Your communication states that Sacramento is 'unsuited in climate.' This statement we denounce as untrue and most emphatically resent. As you know, the climate of the city of Sacramento is the climate of the two great valleys of California, Sacramento and San Joaquin. To say that Sacramento is unfit for purposes of a State capital is to say that the vast area comprising the great valleys during the past decade or more have spent tens of thousands of dollars annually in advertising the statement throughout this country and abroad that the climate of these valleys is one of the finest in the world. To admit your statement is to denounce the people of the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys as public liars, and to charge them with having willfully misrepresented the character of their climate to the people of the world. Submission of the question of capital removal means that the legislature shall say to the world that they as representatives of the people believe that all the reasons you give in favor of Berkeley are lacking in Sacramento and the great valleys of the State.

"As for the correctness of your charges that the climate of Sacramento is unit, we shall let the following records speak for themselves. We quote from the statistics as published by the State Board of Trade for the year 1904, wherein we compare Sacramento and Oakland (the latter being the nearest city to Berkeley from which we could obtain data), and we find:

Sacramento—Annual mean temperature, 60.1; total rainfall, 20.39 inches; number rainy days, 78; clear days, 205; partly cloudy days, 78; cloudy days, 83.

Oakland—Annual mean temperature, 57.9; total rainfall, 22.06 inches; number rainy days, 83; clear days, 155; partly cloudy days, 99; cloudy days, 111.

"In addition to the foregoing facts we quote from the official records that the annual death rate for 1906, per thousand, is as follows:

Oakland	15.06
Sacramento	12.00

"To say as you do that the present Capitol building is 'outgrown, worn out and unreadable,' is a statement that is absolutely false. The present building is one of the finest Capitol structures in the United States, and when the alterations are completed, now going on under the appropriation already made, it will furnish ample room for all purposes of our State Government; it will be one of the most beautiful buildings in the State, modern in all respects, and one that could not be duplicated today for less than $7,000,000. Add to this $1,000,000, the value of Capitol Park which would revert, in the case of removal, to the city of Sacramento, and the extent o f the proposed abandonment can be partially understood.

"It is pointed out as one reason for the removal of the Capitol to Berkeley that the State now pays in San Francisco rentals about $20,000 a year which could be saved if the capital were moved to Berkeley. Under the laws of the State all of these officials should make their headquarters at the Capital. They do not do so now, nor is there any guarantee that you can give to the people of California that these officials will do so even should the Capitol be removed to Berkeley.

"It is not true that Sacramento is remote from the main movements of the people, as you claim. There are six distinct railway lines centering in Sacramento at present, and five additional lines actually building and two projected for the immediate future, making it the greatest railway center in the State and the greatest west of Denver, Col.

"You say in your communication that the State Capitol at Berkeley would be visible from every incoming ship. Let us remind you that in the event of war with a foreign nation the first point of attack on the Pacific Coast would be San Francisco and vicinity, and the first point of attack in San Francisco would be, as you point out, the exposed Capitol, which would make it possible for the enemy to reduce to ruins in an hour an investment of millions on the part of the State."

Perfect Weather in the City of Berkeley

BERKELEY, Feb. 25.—In line with the action adopted by the townspeople of San Jose last week, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city has sent a letter to the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce expressing hearty support for the capital moving project. The letter follows:

"Gentlemen:—In reply to your esteemed favor of February 20, the consensus of all the members are in favor of highly supporting Berkeley for the capital. In order to get an official communication to that effect, I will be obliged to wait until next Tuesday, which is the regular meeting of our managing board and I will bring the matter before them at that time.

"Yours respectfully,
"J. T. BROOKS,
"Secretary."

At a special meeting of the Alviso Improvement Club on the 20th instant, called for the purpose of considering the advisability of moving the capital of the State from Sacramento to Berkeley, after discussing the matter carefully it was decided by a unanimous vote to favor such removal. Resolutions were adopted to that effect.

ble with her mother in Allegheny before going ot Philadelphia to live—if she had not run away with a girl.

Mrs. Thaw replied in the negative. Mr. Jerome's next question was:

AFTER THE DRUGGING.

"How long after the drugging in the Twenty-fourth street house was it that the account was opened for you in the Amsterdam Bank by Stanford White?"

"I can't tell how long—it might have been a month."

"When did you first meet Frances Belmont?"

"When I was in 'Florodora.'"

GONE TO SUPPERS.

Mr. Jerome continued to hold the documentary evidence before the witness before answering his questions, formed on affidavits from her mother.

"Had you gone to supper with Frances Belmont before you met White?"

Again the reply was in the negative. The witness said she had gone to several suppers afterward, but White was present at all of them except one.

Mr. Jerome asked the witness if she had not often gone to suppers with two men whose names he whispered to her.

"I never went with them, but they were present."

"Did they not on occasions take you home?"

"One took me home once and the other twice, but there was another person with me."

"Do you know Angela Vincent?"

"Yes."

A letter was shown Mrs. Thaw, dated Boston, January 20, 1902, addressed to Charles Hartnett, White's private secretary. It said:

MONEY FOR EVELYN.

"Dear Hartnett—Telephone Mrs. Nesbit to let you know whenever Miss Evelyn decides to go on her vacation. Then send this note to the Mercantile Trust Company: 'Please notify Miss Nesbit that on receiving word she is about to start on her vacation you will send her the weekly checks for $25, and an additional check for $200.'

"STANFORD WHITE."

The introduction of this letter and several checks refreshed Mrs. Thaw's memory to the extent that she lived at the Audubon Apartments from February 10 to April 1, 1902.

Between April 1 and 17 Mrs. Thaw and her mother went to live at the Wellington Hotel.

The district attorney spent some time in developing this point, and apparently attaches much importance to it.

The witness testified that she met Thaw either in December, 1901, or January, 1902, at a dinner in Rector's.

This dinner was after a matinee and lasted an hour.

"At this dinner," asked Mr. Jerome, "was Mr. Thaw rational?"

"Yes."

"When he came to pay the check he did not require any help in making the change; didn't require anyone to tell him the denominations of his bills?"

"No, sir."

"Had Thaw, during the first weeks of your acquaintance, given you any presents?"

"No, only some violets."

GIVEN MONEY BY THAW.

"Did he ever send you any money, with flowers?"

"Yes, once."

"Was this before or after he had called upon you?"

"I can't remember."

"Did it make no impression on your mind?"

"Yes, it did. That is why I remember it."

"You were not in the habit of receiving money from men, were you?"

"No," she replied indignantly.

"How many times had you seen Thaw before he sent the money?"

"I can't remember."

"Didn't it strike you as strange?"

"I knew it was always done at the theaters. I saw that going on all the time."

"Did you know him well?"

"No."

"Did your mother make you send the money back?"

"No."

"Who did send it back?"

"I did."

"How much?"

"Fifty dollars."

When she saw Thaw she asked him to not to do such a thing again, and he apologized.

He was self-possessed at that time.

THAT COSTUME SUPPER.

Mrs. Thaw was questioned regarding a costume supper at the Hoffman House late in the summer of 1902, which she and Thaw attended.

She had no photographs of the costume she wore on that occasion. The supper broke up about 2 a. m. After that the witness did not see Thaw for a long time. He went abroad.

Asked as to how often she saw Thaw up to June, 1902, she said: "I don't think fifteen times," but could not state definitely.

"You were shown a paper in Abe Hummel's office?"

"Yes."

"Is that the signature?"

"That is the name; I cannot identify the signature."

SIGNED "ETHEL THOMAS."

At Mr. Delmas' request Mr. Jerome said the paper was signed "Ethel Thomas." Mrs. Thaw said she had not read the paper, and Mr. Jerome did not press his efforts to find out what it contained.

It is supposed to have been connected with a suit against Thaw.

"When you returned from Europe in October, 1903, did you not go direct to George Lederer's office and telephone to Stanford White?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"I did not."

"Did not you try to telephone Mr. White from the wharf?"

"I did not."

"Did you see George Lederer before you saw White?"

"No."

WITH JOHN BARRYMORE.

She first saw eLderer in 1902 when she went to him with a letter from Mr. Marks looking for a position.

"Did you ever go to supper with Lederer?"

"Yes."

Alone?"

"Yes."

The witness first met Jack Barrymore in the summer of 1902 in the "Tower." Stanford White and some other men and girls were also there.

She could not say when she next saw Barrymore. She had gone to supper alone with him.

"Did you ever go to Dr. Carlton Flint with Jack Barrymore?"

"No."

"Yes, after he had seen my mother."

"When did you last see Mr. Barrymore?"

"When I went to call on his sister in Pitsburg in 1906."

At this point Dr. Carlton Flint, who had been sent for by the prosecution, appeared in court, was escorted to within a few feet of the witness and confronted her.

"Did you ever see that man before?" demanded Mr. Jerome of Mrs. Thaw.

The witness turned quickly toward the doctor, hesitated a moment and said:

"Never."

"You are sure?"

"To the best of my knowledge I never saw him before."

"Did you go to him with Jack Barrymore?"

"No."

Dr. Flint withdrew.

"Did you ever stay out all night with Barrymore?"

"No."

"Did not you go to supper with Barrymore one night and send your mother a telegram saying you were spending the night with another party?"

"I remember nothing of the sort."

"Did Stanford White at any time seek to have you take action against Barrymore?"

Mr. Delmas objected.

"It is very material," declared Mr. Jerome. "If we can show that Stanford White sought to have Barrymore arrested on a charge of seduction."

"That might show nothing more," rejoined Mr. Delmas, "than the jealousy of an older man of a younger sweetheart."

"The cross-examination has taken a wide latitude," remarked Justice Fitzgerald, "but this question will not be allowed."

Mr. Jerome next asked the witness if she had understood Thaw was paying "honorable" court to her. She declared she did not know whether Thaw had matrimonial intentions during the first part of their acquaintance.

TRIP TO EUROPE.

Mr. Jerome then took Mrs. Thaw over the trip she made over Europe alone with Mr. Thaw. She denied that Thaw and she had traveled as Mr. and Mrs. Dellis.

Mrs. Thaw said that previous to telling her story to Thaw she noticed nothing about him that she thought was a mark of irrationality.

When Thaw heard of the letter of credit which Stanford White had given her he became excited.

Mr. Jerome questioned the witness about the cablegrams sent to Stanford White from London.

"You knew your mother had complained to the American embassy about your going away with Thaw on a tour of Europe, did you not?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"I did not," she replied.

"The cablegrams," said Mrs. Thaw, "were about my mother and a man whose name I gave you. That man happened to be a secretary of the American embassy, and that is all the embassy had to do with it. This man sneaked up to my mother's bedroom when she was in bed and insulted her."

Mrs. Thaw said this man had insulted her in London also.

Mrs. Thaw said that when she went to New York from Europe, she stopped first at the Holland House, but being unable to secure rooms, she went on to the Savoy. In answer to questions, she insisted that she stopped nowhere else and did not use the telephone.

PECULIAR NEEDLES.

In describing their life in Paris Mrs. Thaw said she found in the rooms some peculiar loking noseedles which looked like darning needles. She asked Mr. Thaw about them and he said they were old stuff someone had left behind.

Mr. Thaw had never written her about them, she said, whereupon Mr. Jerome produced one of the letters which the defense had introduced, in which Thaw mentioned the needles and explained that they were not for morphine. Thaw did not drink heavily in Paris, she testified, except occasionally.

At this point luncheon recess was taken.

Mrs. Thaw after the noon recess resumed the stand.

After returning to New York on October 24, 1903, she went to the Savoy Hotel and then to the Navarre, staying at each hotel several weeks. Her bills at these hotels she paid out of the money given her by Thaw.

Before she left the Savoy she had begun to believe the stories White told her about Harry.

"But you continued to pay your expenses out of money Thaw gave you?"

"Yes."

"Did White give you any presents while there?"

"No."

CHARGED WITH CRIME.

While at the Savoy Mrs. Thaw said she went out several times with White and told him about her travels with Thaw.

"Did you tell him about your mother?"

"He knew more about the matter than I did."

"What did he tell you he knew about your mother?"

Mr. Delmas' objection was sustained.

Mr. Jerome asked the witness if her mother and a Miss Simonton had not gone to White upon their return from Europe and taxed him with the girl's story of her downfall, the architect replying:

"My wife on one side and my son upon the other, and may God strike me dead if I ever harmed her."

"Yes, he told me, and he told me also his body turned ice cold when they accused him. He said he could handle a dozen mammas, but he was afraid of this Simonton woman."

DINES WITH WHITE.

Mrs. Thaw said that Thaw had sent for Miss Simonton to accompany Mrs. Nesbit home, as she was determined to go.

She declared that Thaw paid Mrs. Nesbit's fare to America.

She said that before Thaw returned from Europe she went several times to dinner at the "Tower." Several times she went alone, trusting to White's word that there would be others present.

Mrs. Thaw also told of going to Philadelphia and returning with Angela Vincent, an actress.

"Did White tell you about Ethel Thomas?"

"No."

"Who did?"

"Abraham Hummel."

The witness had never seen Thaw take cocaine and did not tell Hummel she had, nor that Thaw had tried to administer cocaine to her.

Mrs. Thaw, at the direction of Mr. Jerome repeated all the stories White had told her about Harry Thaw.

"So that the time he arrived in America you had ceased to love him?"

"Yes, I thought it all very horrible."

Thaw called to see her at the Navarre the day he returned from Europe. She also told of her mother insisting on returning to America, and of her leaving her mother in London and going upon the second tour.

"Did Thaw ever tell your mother about your being kidnaped?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"No."

"Was there ever any talk of a suit against Thaw for kidnaping?"

"Not that I ever heard."

"Were you depressed upon your return to America in 1903?"

"No."

"And Thaw had proposed to you just three months before?"

"Yes."

CRUELTY OF THAW.

The witness admitted that she and Thaw sat down at a table in a restaurant with the man who told her that Thaw tied girls to bedposts and beat them.

"What was Thaw's manner toward this man? Was it rational or irrational?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"He was more or less amused."

Mrs. Thaw testified that she went to the Grand Hotel with Thaw in 1904 and lived with him as his wife. One day because of a conversation she had upon the street with a woman she left the defendant and spent the night at the Hotel York, returning to Thaw the next day.

Adjournment in the Thaw case was taken at 4:15 until tomorrow morning, when Mr. Hummel will be called to the stand to prove affidavits. Mr. Jerome said after this he would only have a few more questions to ask Mrs. Thaw, confining himself to affidavits.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Thomas Carr, a solicitor, while attempting to board a Twenty-fourth street car, was thrown to the ground and the wheels of the coach passed over his lower limbs. He was hurried to the City and County Hospital, where it was found both legs would have to be amputated. Carr declares that the car started before he had time to board, and he was thrown backward by the sudden motion and slipped under the wheels.

AN APOLOGY

To our Customers and Friends—

Nearly one hundred of you were disappointed in the delivery of your garments last week for several reasons. One is that our Mr. Ed Webster has been confined to his bed since last Wednesday, and another is that an enormous week's business was handled in quarters which are entirely too small to handle the work. We are arranging larger quarters now and will have more wagons ready soon, and will make every effort to serve you promptly and satisfactorily.

ASSESSOR DALTON OPPOSED TO AMENDMENT

He Declares That Charter Amendme n Number Four Will Increase Taxes.

Editor TRIBUNE—Many have asked the following question in regard to the Charter Amendment No. 4: "What effect would the adoption of this amendment have on the assessment of the property within the city of Oakland?"

My answer is this: "The people of Oakland would have to pay a far greater amount in taxes, because the object in amending the charter is to provide a way whereby the city assessments may be raised, and thus more taxes collected.

The city officials are crying "more money, more money." It is not "more money" that is required, but, instead, a more judicious expenditure of the large amount of money now raised.

In order to get "more money," your assessments must be increased. These officials want the assessments of the property in the city of Oakland increased from $59,090,689 to $100,000,000, an increase of about 70 per cent. This means that you must pay 70 per cent more taxes than you are now paying.

On every $1000 city assessment you now pay $12.80. A 70 per cent increase will raise a $1000 city assessment to $1700, and your tax bill would call for $21.76, or $8.96 more than it is at the present time on every $1000 assessment.

The advocates of the charter amendment claim that a higher assessment will make a lower tax rate; but this is far from true, as the following figures, which compare the assessments of 1886 and 1906, will show:

Year.	Ass'mt.	Rate.	Tax Collected.
1886	$29,966,200	.85	$253,862.71
1906	59,090,689	1.28	749,451.33
Increase..	$29,124,489	.43	$495,568.62

Increase in assessments, $29,124,489. Increase in rate, .43. Increase in taxes, taken from your pockets, $495,568.62. What have we to show for this?

On the contrary, the rate increases as the assessment increased.

Now, before you vote for Amendment No. 4, you must not lose sight of the fact that one raise in your assessment is inevitable, and that is the assessment for State and county purposes. This raise is absolutely necessary on account of the changed conditions here since the great fire in San Francisco.

Now, on top of this, consider a 70 per cent raise in your taxes for city purposes—consider well before you vote for Charter Amendment No. 4.

HENRY P. DALTON.

PITCHFORK IN BLOODY DUEL

One Greek Laborer Nearly Kills Another with Barn Utensil.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—S. Farraira and A. Resi, two Greek laborers, living at 256 State street, became engaged in a quarrel shortly after noon today, in which the latter attacked his adversary with a pitchfork. Farraira was badly cut and may not recover.

The quarrel had been brewing between the two men for several days. It came to a head today at noon, when Resi hit Farraira in the face with his fist because the latter overturned a table. Farraira chased Resi into the yard, where he grabbed a pitchfork, with which he assaulted his victim.

A warrant was issued for Resi's arrest, and he was charged with assault with intent to commit murder.

OF ALL THE WITTY THINGS

I ever heard, I think the choicest bon mot emanated from a lawyer at a convention of legal sharps up in Iowa last month. This orator said: I hate Shams. I do not pretend to be a great lawyer. I am." And yet there was nothing very facetious in that if your orator could make good. Most every one hates shams, if he is the victim of the shamming. I think Lehnhardt must hate shams, as I never saw any shamming around his conservatory of sweets.

NEWS FROM BERKELEY AND CITY OF ALAMEDA

"MARY" NOT A GOOD SINGER

Woman Who Insists Upon Creating a Disturbance in Alameda Is Arrested.

ALAMEDA Feb 25 —"Mary Just plain Mary That is my name and the only name I have" declared a woman when Policeman Willing arrested her night for cheering to a degree the city ordinance forbids

Mary was neither shy nor bashful but she was very happy and thought it a great injustice she should be arrested on such a charge

Her tearful pleading was of no avail with Sergeant Hadley and when the woman realized the fact she started to sing a plaintive love ditty that was clever in words but in tune Only just ten minutes to find that a portion of the name was Mary but money could the officers find from the woman

I'm the woman all the songs are being written about she declared My mother's name was Mary and so is mine If you want to know anything more I'll tell you when I feel better

This morning the woman forfeited her bail and Mary's money is now in the city treasury

SAD BLOW TO LIVERY MEN

Council Does Not Propose to Allow Stables in Certain Districts.

ALAMEDA Feb 25 —At a special meeting of the City Council Saturday night it was decided to frame an ordinance that will keep all livery stables from the residence districts The exact form of the ordinance was not decided upon but City Attorney Simpson was instructed to prepare a measure to be submitted to the Board at the next meeting one week from tonight

The ordinance is being framed owing to the agitation of a number of residents in the vicinity of Everett street and Santa Clara avenue where a stable man lately purchased a lot and is to erect a stable The stable would be in a select residence district and the Council means to make it impossible for a livery stable of any kind to be built near the best homes of the city

IS NOT FIT TO BRING UP BABY

Cruel Is Charge Made by H. A Dilling Against Mrs Mabel Dilling

The cleanliness of Mrs Mabel Dilling was discussed at length in Department Three of the Superior Court this morning and Steward Harry Borchert of the Receiving Hospital who occupied the witness stand said the woman was filthy and was covered with vermin when she was brought into the hospital last October after having taken poison

H A Dilling a retired sea captain residing at 1109 Santa Clara avenue Alameda has petitioned the Superior Court for the guardianship of his grandchild alleging that her parents are unfit persons to raise the baby daughter which is now about sixteen months old

Mabel Dilling dismissed the divorce suit against her husband George D Dilling an employee of the Penn Oil Company who she claimed in the complaint tried to compel her to live in a house of shame

H A Dilling has taken a fancy to his little granddaughter and wants to raise her in a proper way and provide a good education for the child

Mrs Dilling attempted to commit suicide on October 24 last year by taking poison but the work of the authorities at the Receiving Hospital saved her life It was while she was there in the hospital receiving antidotes that Borchert noted her condition

When the case was continued this morning various newspapermen who were at the hospital when Mrs Dilling was brought in were called upon to tell of the woman's condition

FAMILY BIBLE TELLS HER AGE

Mother Testifies in Case of Miss Cunningham, Who Ran Away.

Mrs Lily B Cunningham said the record of Miss Estelle's age was in the family bible now at the home of her grandfather D W Cunningham on West Eighteenth street Los Angeles but to the best of her recollection her daughter was born April 16 1889, and will be eighteen years old on April 16 The mother made the first witness for the prosecution this morning against Harry H Holly the young Reliance clubman who is being tried on the charge of stealing pretty Estelle Cunningham and taking her to Los Angeles last October

Mrs Cunningham said that she and her husband Andrew Cunningham who is in Detroit Michigan, have been separated for about five years but were not divorced She said however that there was a written agreement which she now has that gives her the custody of the daughter Mrs Cunningham said that her husband constantly corresponds with her

The mother said that at no time did she ever give Holly permission to take her daughter away and that she did not see Miss Estelle from about 9 o'clock Saturday morning December 8 1906 until the following Saturday Mrs Cunningham said that she has known Holly for five years

Mrs Cunningham's testimony was read due to her daughter being taken away by Holly without her consent

Miss Estelle went on the stand at 2 o'clock this afternoon and related the incident of last December

During the trial this morning when Mrs Cunningham was on the stand two women in the lobby talked to Miss Cunningham and District Attorney Brown had the court order them to remain quiet or leave the room

BREAKS PARDON GIVEN TO WED

George Omerod May Have to Leave Bride to Serve Old Sentence.

His failure to comply with the provisions under which he was pardoned by Governor Pardee from the city prison has again placed George Omerod a well-known young man of this city in the toils and he will have to serve out his incompleted sentence of about two months

Omerod was pardoned at the request of Mayor Mott and Chief of Police Wilson that he might marry a young woman whom, it was said he had wronged The marriage was performed a short time ago by Justice of the Peace Quinn in Chief of Police Wilson's office

One of the provisions of Omerod's pardon was that he would have to serve out his unexpired term should he ever be arrested again

Although an apparently happy bridegroom, Omerod became hilarious yesterday and over-indulged in fiery intoxicants He was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and appeared in Police court No Two this morning Judge Samuels continued the case until tomorrow that he might look up the conditions of the pardon

Poor Show for The Dyspeptic

Poisoned Stomach, Clogged Brain, Wavering Ambition, Failure—Unless He Seizes His Opportunity

There's no good reason for any man's remaining a dyspeptic—a burden to himself and family when he should be a producer

There's only one reason why he has been a dyspeptic and that is because he has overworked his stomach so that it cannot secrete the juices and work the muscles necessary to digest the food

Failure Staring Him in the Face.

What the dyspeptic must do is to help the stomach out It is full of a poisonous pile of fermenting nauseating food Instead of being assimilated and carried by the blood to make nerve and muscle and rebuild the waste tissues it has there inactive

First take an unirritating cathartic and get rid of this food

Second get a 50 cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from any druggist and take one at each meal and at bed time The tablet will do the digesting while the stomach is regaining its forces Before the box is gone your stomach will be mostly restored if not cured Why Because Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the very elements which your stomach possessed when it was healthy—pepsin diastase golden seal and others It was because your stomach kept losing its supply of these digestive ferments that you became dyspeptic

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work simply surely and without injury They are not a medicine but the working out of a scientific principle upon the food you eat

Hundred of sufferers in far worse condition than you have been positively cured of dyspepsia by these wonderful little tablets Forty thousand physicians in the United States and Canada recommend them

If you are uncertain and wish further proof send us your name and address today for a free trial package which we will gladly mail you at once F A Stuart Co, 71 Stuart Bldg Marshall Mich

CATARRH PREPARES THE SYSTEM FOR CONSUMPTION

While Catarrh in its first stages usually affects the head, it does not stop there if the trouble is allowed to run on. The contracting of a cold is generally the commencement of the unpleasant symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, nose stopped up, mucus dropping back into the throat, hawking and spitting, etc. The inner skin or mucous membrane of the body becomes inflamed and secretes an unhealthy matter which is absorbed into the blood, and Catarrh becomes a serious and dangerous blood disease. Every day the blood becomes more heavily loaded with these poisonous secretions, and as the poisoned blood constantly passes through the lungs they become diseased, and often Catarrh terminates in Consumption. Sprays, washes, inhalations and such treatment do no real good, because they do not reach the poison-laden blood, where the real trouble lies. The only way to cure Catarrh is to purify and build up the blood. S. S. S. has been proven the remedy best suited for this purpose. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and removes every trace of impurity from the circulation, freshens this life stream and, as this healthy blood goes to every nook and corner of the system, Catarrh is driven out and a lasting cure made. The inflamed membranes and tissues heal, the secretions cease, the head is cleared and the entire system renovated and put in good condition by the use of S. S. S. Write for free book which contains valuable information about Catarrh and ask for any special medical advice you desire, without charge.

Treasures Found in Our American Forests.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers of this and other countries. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day, we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N Y, believes that our American forests abound in medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them, and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the most marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action.

The reason why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R V Pierce, of Buffalo, N Y., to all sending request for the same

To aid in healing old sores, or ulcers, apply Dr Pierce's All-Healing Salve to them while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to purify and enrich the blood

Dr Pierce's All-Healing Salve is cleansing and pain relieving. It destroys the bad odors arising from suppurating, or running, sores and puts them in the best possible condition for healing

The "All-Healing Salve" is a superior dressing for all open, running, or suppurating, Sores or Ulcers For healing open wounds, cuts and scratches it is unsurpassed.

If your medicine dealer does not have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock mail 50 cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V Pierce, Buffalo N. Y, and you will receive it by return post.

In treating all open sores, or ulcers, boils, carbuncles and other swellings, it is important that Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery be taken persistently to purify the blood and thereby remove the cause of the trouble It is in the blood that the great battle of health has to be fought. The ulcer and the sore are simply the scarlet flowers of disease, with roots running down into the blood. These roots must be eradicated or the disease will break out afresh. "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanses the blood of all foul and poisonous accumulations, pushes out the dead and waste matter, and thus purifies the entire life current. Disease in the flesh must die out when it is no longer fed by foul blood. "Golden Medical Discovery" effectively cures disease in the flesh by curing its cause in the blood.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Nursing mothers and over-burdened women in all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by overwork, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating, restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retroversion or other displacements of womanly organs, from weakness of parts, will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully, and fairly persistently, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the diseases. Easy to take as candy.

SUPERVISORS TAKE UP WORK OF THE COUNTY

Some Very Interesting Matters Come Up Before the County Fathers for Action.

The Board of Supervisors convened this morning in regular weekly session, all of the members, except Supervisor Horner, being in attendance. The chief feature of the session was the hearing given to the protest filed against the granting of certain liquor licenses.

PROPOSED ROAD LAW.

Lewis E. Bradt, Secretary of the Venice Chamber of Commerce, addressed the following communication to the Board:

"Your honorable body, like other supervisorial boards, undoubtedly realize the insufficiency of the present road laws. Many measures to aid road improvement have been introduced in the legislature, among these is Senate bill, No. 409, introduced by Percival, of Lodi. This bill is very simple and clear in its provisions. It applies the principles of the Vrooman and Bond acts to counties. It vests the power to initiate and direct the work in the Board of Supervisors and provides for the creation by them of road improvement districts, for the issue of bonds, and for a special fund, to be derived in part from the county road fund and in part by a special assessment upon a district. We suggest that you write to your Senators and Assemblymen asking them to look into the merits of the Percival bill and have your district attorney give you an opinion in regard to it. This should be done immediately, as the session is half over."

Referred to the District Attorney.

HOODOO PREMISES

Mrs. Anna Vitek, a resident and property owner on the San Leandro road off Charles street, Elmhurst, complained, for a second time, about an elevated sidewalk constructed in front of her premises, which obstructs the natural drainage and floods her property with storm water. She asks for relief.

APPLICANTS FOR LICENSES.

H. Havanon applied for a license to sell liquor at the junction of Redwood Road and Allendale avenue, Fruitvale.

J. R. Menee And J. A. Morgan are also applicants for a license to sell liquor at the corner of east Fourteenth and Prospect avenue. Both applications took the usual course.

QUARANTINED CASES.

The Health office reported the quarantining of four cases of diphtheria during the month of January, six to the locality of these cases the report is silent.

NEW SUBURBAN TRACTS.

H. P. Gerzebach presented the Board with a map of the Gerzebach subdivision of Lot No. 5 Ludovina Noy tract, and Frank Cardoza presented a map of the Cordoza subdivision of lot No. 6 in the same tract in Brooklyn township. Both were accepted with the usual exception as to the acceptance of streets.

Requisition for cabinet filed by the County Expert was allowed.

DELINQUENT POLL TAX NOTICES.

In the matter of the application of the suburban newspapers to the publication of an official notice of the delinquent personal property and poll taxes the District Attorney gave an oral opinion to the effect that there was nothing in the law directing the publication not prohibiting it. He explained what the law required the assessor to do, namely, to make a personal demand on the delinquent before he could proceed against him to recover the delinquency, but that was obviously impossible. He did not think that the publication of a notice of delinquency in any or all of the newspapers of the county would be "a personal demand." The powers of the Board of Supervisors was probably limited. Manifestly it would not have the right to contract obligations for advertising in this case which exceeded what moneys would be collected through the publication. Before he could advise the Board positively, however, as to what it should do he desired to have a statement showing what the cost of advertising would be and what amount of the delinquent taxes involved the assessor expected to collect.

Mr. Rowe asked the District Attorney if the last legislature did not pass a law allowing the county assessor a percentage of the collections of delinquent personal property and poll taxes, and if it was not intended that this percentage should be used for just such a course as was proposed through the publication of the notice in the newspapers. To him there seemed to be at least an implied equity in the case that he should bear the expense of collecting these delinquent taxes.

The District Attorney said a law had been passed granting the county assessor a percentage of the collections, but that there was nothing in the law or any other law directing the Board to publish any such notice as the suburban newspapers were asking.

Mr. Shorey of the Piedmont Review submitted a list of ten parcels which were being offered by the county outside of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda and which had been in existence over one year. He said that the Board had been in the habit of publishing those notices every year up to two years ago, when the publication was stopped. The publishers of the suburban newspapers simply desired to restore the old conditions, on the ground that the publication in the respective papers would be most convenient to the people of the community in which each one is published.

The Clerk of the Board was directed to obtain from the County Assessor a written statement of the amount of collections of the delinquent taxes for the guidance of the members.

ALLENDALE ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

H. E. Heywood and numerous other residents, citizens and taxpayers residing on Redwood road in the Allendale district of Fruitvale, petitioned for the placing and maintaining of that violation at road crossings some electric street lamps to the number of six. The petitioners added: "This neighborhood is without sidewalks and is a considerable distance from any car line and at night during the winter months is exceedingly dark and, therefore, it is unsafe for anyone to be out after nightfall. There are a number of mechanics and laborers residing in this district who do not own their home until late at night and it is for these, as well as for others, that we ask that our petition be granted."

Supervisor Kelley suggested that inasmuch as the cost for lighting that district had nearly exhausted the fund for the purpose contemplated by the petitioners can be incorporated in the new lighting contract, and the suggestion was approved by the Board.

FILED.

The communication of W. S. Habermeyer regarding the cutting up of the lots facing south Railroad avenue, Elmhurst, was received and placed on file.

DEED TO LAND.

The deed of Henry A. Pleitner, Christine A. Pleitner, William R. Ward and Sarah Ward to a strip of land in Brooklyn township, bordering on Otis avenue, was accepted.

PROTESTS AGAINST LICENSES.

The protest of William Fiedl against the granting of a license to sell liquor on Fruitvale avenue, between East Fourteenth street and the Southern Pacific railroad tracks, to James C. Hill, on the ground that there was a verbal understanding that when he (Fiedl) gave up lease on the premises for five years to Mr. Grubb that no liquor should be sold on the premises. It developed, however, that the lease contained no provision to that effect and President Mitchell informed the protestant that the Board had been advised by the District Attorney that the dispute over the terms of the lease was a matter over which the Board of Supervisors had no jurisdiction, and that it could be settled only voluntarily between the disputants or in court. The Board therefore declined to entertain the protest and granted Hill a license.

The protest filed against granting a license to Fred Scott to sell liquor in Niles was referred to Supervisor Horner.

The protests of the Diamond Improvement Club and a lot of Diamond freeholders against the granting of a liquor license to Otto Schwartz, who wants to open a saloon on the corner of Hopkins street and Fruitvale avenue, was referred to the County Surveyor, as the protestants charged that the petitioner had not acquired the signatures to his application required by law.

President Mitchell remarked, in ordering the reference, that the site of the proposed saloon was near the old Hermitage, which the board had previously had much difficulty in closing, and it was not desirous to revive old conditions in that locality. Moreover, the board had once declared it to be a "residence district," where the selling of liquor was objectionable.

The protest of Mrs. E. G. Bassett and others against a liquor license being granted to C. Torre, at the corner of Floyd and Fruitvale avenues, was also referred to the County Surveyor to ascertain by survey whether the charge that the applicant lacked the legal number of endorsers was valid or not. In the case of each of these protests next Monday morning was set as the time for a hearing.

WANT LICENSE REVOKED.

The hearing of the petition of H. C. Damon and others that the license granted to C. Tepper to sell liquor in Fruitvale be revoked on the ground that it was obtained by fraud, was taken up. President Mitchell reported that the District Attorney advised the board it had the power and the right to revoke the license if it should be shown that it had been obtained by fraud.

Tepper asked for a continuance for one week owing to the inability of his attorney to be present, as he had a case on trial in one of the courts.

Mr. Damon protested against a continuance of the hearing, as there had already been one continuance, and it would inconvenience the petitioners to be required to attend the board's session a third time. The petitioners were ready to prove the fraud that had been committed and satisfy the board that the license should be revoked. The matter went over, however, until next Monday morning to give Tepper a chance to be professionally represented.

LICENSES GRANTED.

The applications for liquor licenses by G. Nocito and G. de Lucca at Greenville, Murray township, and William Eberlein, Orchard avenue and San Leandro road, were granted.

REFERRED TO THE SURVEYOR.

The communication of Edward A. Ellsworth regarding the need of a drain to the underground railroad pass in front of his packing house, in which he consented to give a right of way for the pipe, was referred to the County Surveyor.

The board then adjourned.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH CORONER'S VERDICT

An inquest was held yesterday afternoon into the death of Walter Johnson, a negro, who was killed several days ago at the foot of Wood street in West Oakland, by being struck by an Alameda local of the Southern Pacific Company. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death and exonerated the engineer from all blame.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. J. P. DAVIS

FALSE NOTIONS OF RELIGION

Many Men First Get Them in Childhood, Says St. Mary's Pastor.

Last evening the pulpit in St. Mary's was again occupied by the Reverend James Grant, D. D., who delivered the second of his series of sermons on "Christian Dogma."

His subject was "Indifferentism," and among other things he said:

"Our subject last Sunday was the prevalence of skepticism, and we tried to show that notwithstanding the maxims and pretentions of those who have given up all belief and practice of religion, our very nature is witness of religious duty to the Creator. Intelligence and will and conscience are witnesses which cannot be silenced.

MEN NEGLECT DUTY.

"Tonight we continue the subject. Since men neglect their duty to God, notwithstanding the ceaseless protest of their soul, there must be some mysterious agent at work to effect it, and if men lead a life of insubordination to their Master there must be serious consequences to themselves, and to society. This very soul-sickness of man and evil in society are a proof themselves that men have visited the handiwork of God.

NUMEROUS CAUSES.

"The causes are numerous. The first cause is ignorance—first in the order of the faculty affected. Ignorance blinds the intelligence which is witness to the knowledge of God. Who has not seen the phenomenon of the young man of eighteen summers, who, though ignorant of even the elements of Christianity, unexpectedly sets himself up as the sole and competent judge of it and condemns it.

"The phenomenon is not that the young man acts thus at eighteen, but that he never grows older. At thirty and at forty and at fifty he is as ignorant on the subject as he was at eighteen and as vehement in his disdainful condemnation of it.

POISONED SOURCES.

"The ignorance of such, though culpable, is explicable and due to environment and to poisonous sources. Many draw in with their mother's milk false notions about religion and never meet anyone who disabuses them. Others live in a vicious atmosphere. Their only sources of information are rabid newspapers and pamphlets and such lecturers as they care to hear.

"These grow up in the conviction that religion is not a matter of objective truth. It is merely a matter of opinion and changes with centuries and nationalities. Skeptics, too, who were men of science, have helped to confirm them in their opinion, for they maintained that ultimately there would be no mystery. Men held some truths to be mysterious merely because they could not understand, but science in its progress would explain all.

"Some scientists, too, maintained that the only sort of truth or fact which could compel the assent of the mind of reasonable men were mathematical truths. The measurement of a line or a problem in geometry will convince because evident, but not so with religious truths. There is no evidence, they say, that we are for God, and eternity, that our soul is immortal and responsible, so that men grow up in the conviction that religion has no objective truth at all, that it is a matter merely of opinion, and that at last, it has little foundation.

SECOND CAUSE.

"The second cause is moral. The genesis of skepticism in souls is a mystery. In some the cause undoubtedly is a free-born admixture with moral element, but that is exceptional.

"The century is one of gross sensuality and the age at which men become skeptics is one of tumultuous passion. The clouds that blind the intellect arise out of the infection of the heart. It is not the intellect that is trouble with belief but the heart that is harassed by the decalogue. When the blind man cried to Christ for light, he led him apart and put mud on his eyes, as though to explain to men that if they are blind spiritually it is because blinded with the mire in which they have wallowed. Wash it off and sight will return.

THIRD CAUSE.

"The third cause is the world. At thirty a man's heart must break or become flint, because at that age one wakes up out of the delusion that the world and men are what they seemed to be. Then the temptation comes, for loss of faith in men and the world is often followed by loss of faith in God. And the world is all for mammon. It has no time for God and religion because there is no money in either. Thus people loose their religion, and loosing it live in a world where they seldom hear of it again.

"The consequence is inevitable. Standards are lowered. No longer the decalogue, anarchy in thought, replaces the old fixed principles of belief in God and His law. Likewise, anarchy in conduct. Men act to suit their consciences.

JUSTICE AND DUTY.

"Justice and duty cease to be intelligible if there be no religion, and people will not live lives of abnegation and heroism convinced of the principles that govern Christian morality. The beginning of wisdom is the fear of God, and when there is no fear of God there is little wisdom.

"Thus it is that those who do not believe in a hell to come, soon make one in the life where they are. The abnormal condition which results in the world and the suffering and unhappiness that come about are all so many declarations on the part of nature that things are not as the Creator intended and that they are thus faulty and the cause of unhappiness because man has forsaken the truth and the life and the way."

ENTIRE FAMILY IN DEATH PACT

Denver Woman and Daughter Found Dead, and Father Dying.

DENVER, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Benjamin C. Wright and her 5-year-old daughter, Genevieve, were found dead and the husband and father unconscious and in a dying condition this morning in their home at 374 South Pearl street, this city. Traces of cyanide of potassium were discovered on all the bodies, indicating double murder and suicide, or a triple suicide.

DECIDES FAVORABLE TO RAILROAD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—In deciding the case of the Texas Pacific Railroad Company vs. the Cottons Mills at Abilene, Texas, favorably to the railroad company, the Supreme Court of the United States today held the common law right of individuals to make complaint which existed before the enactment of the Interstate Commerce Act had been destroyed by that enactment. The court, therefore, held that the complaints must be made through the Interstate Commerce Commission. The opinion was by Justice White.

TELEGRAPHERS TO JOIN THE UNION

A large number of applications for membership were received by the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America Local No. 34 as a result of a meeting held yesterday afternoon in Sunset Hall on Seventh street. Vice-president McClandlish presided. H. B. Perham, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, an organization with a membership of 45,000 men, and many others made stirring speeches. Local No. 34 now has more than 300 members.

CONSUMPTION ENDS AGED MAN'S LIFE

William Miller, an aged consumptive, who was found in a dying condition Saturday at Sixth street and Broadway, died yesterday at the Receiving Hospital, where he was taken for treatment. Miller was attended by Dr. W. H. Irwin, but was beyond medical aid. The remains were removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.

The Railroad Commission Bill.

The Johnson bill to extend the powers of the Railroad Commission, which has passed the Assembly, should be killed in the Senate. But if it passes that body, it should be vetoed by the Governor.

The proposed law invades the charter rights of municipalities by giving the Railroad Commission jurisdiction over all interurban, suburban and street railways, whether operated by electricity or steam; that it shall have authority to grant permits for spur tracks, to the exclusion of county and municipal governing bodies, and that it shall displace coroners in conducting investigations of all accidents on steam or electric railroads anywhere in the State. It also practically empowers the commission to fix rates on all street railways.

That is, it takes away from municipalities the power to control the granting of spur track privileges and the regulation of street railways, and deprives coroners of their statutory powers in regard to persons losing their lives by accident on steam or street railways. No good reason has been advanced for making a change so radical and so subversive of the principle of local self-government. It is suggested that the proposed grant of municipal powers to the State Commission is unconstitutional, but whether it is or not it is one that should not be made. Public sentiment in Alameda County is overwhelmingly against it, and we doubt if the measure would carry by popular vote in any county of the State. Popular disapproval alone should prompt its rejection.

The Sacramento people are somewhat stirred up over a comparison of the climate of Berkeley with that of Sacramento. It is one that naturally suggests itself. Nature gave Sacramnto a climate different from the kind Berkeley enjoys. Sacramento is the geographical, commercial and railway center of a vast, fertile and prosperous region, but it is idle to argue that its climate is attractive. Berkeley, on the other hand, has an ideal climate. As a place of residence, it is without a superior in the world. This is a plain fact that is no dispargement of either Sacramento or its people.

Light on the Philippines.

James H. Blount son of Paramount Blount, Cleveland's Commissioner to Hawaii, is the author of an article in the North American Review dealing with the question of independence for the Filipinos that is well worthy of serious study. Mr. Blount writes in a temperate strain, and submits facts of record in a suggestive rather than argumentative manner. Having served for two years in the Philippines as an officer of Maccabebe scouts, and four years as a member of the Insular Judiciary, he speaks from personal experience and first-hand knowledge

Mr. Blount is of the opinion that the Filipinos should be given a definite promise of independence at some fixed date in the future, which he does not undertake to determine, as the only method of reconciling them to American rule and occupation and as a guaranty of future peace in the islands. He quotes General MacArthur and others in high authority in the archipelago to sustain his assertion that, despite the difference in dialect, the inhabitants of the Philippines are racially homogeneous and are animated by a common hope of nationality. He says the desire for nationality is practically unanimous—so much so, that in case the United States became involved in a foreign war the nations would rise en masse in response to the cry of viva la republica Filipinas! He believes they are fitted to establish and maintain, if secure from outside interference, a government adapted to the conditions which prevail in the islands and the racial customs and sympathies of the inhabitants.

Mr. Blount points out the injustice done the Filipinos by laws which discriminate against their interest. One of these is the heavy duty imposed on cotton goods used for wearing apparel (100 per cent) and the duty imposed on Philippine products imported into the United States. The Philippines have been included in the coast navigation jurisdiction of the United States, but are excluded from the area of its tariff protection. Thus we have discriminated against the islands in both ways, and the result has been to arouse a deep and lasting resentment in the minds of the natives.

But the worst feature of our occupation has been the establishment of reconcentrado camps similar to those established by Weyler in Cuba, the horrors of which provoked the indignation of the civilized world. Mr. Blount gives a list of 120 reconcentrados who died in a single camp in the island of Samar as an example of how the policy of pacification is working. We imitated the worst features of Spanish tyranny, and are reaping our reward in a treacherous and revengeful submission that is ready to break forth in a flame of insurrection at the first opportunity.

The attempt to prove Thaw insane by showing that a few distant relatives—the nearest an uncle—were weak minded or were afflicted with dementia is a hollow pretense. Nearly every person in the United States could be proved insane in the same way, as there is hardly a family in the country lacking in an insane member. The theory of Lombroso (who seems to have lost his mind) that degeneracy is an evidence of insanity would place the great majority of the worst criminals in the category of mad men. Now, insanity is a condition, not a theory, and it is shown by a continuous line of irrational conduct, not by relationship to an insane person or by isolated acts indicative of an intemperate and reckless mind or a criminal disposition.

Couldn't Tell Which.

Smith had come home later than usual, and had ready a good explanation, but his wife gave him no chance, and immediately began to tell him what she thought of him. He endured it patiently all evening, quietly read his paper, and went to bed. His wife was still talking.

When he was almost asleep he could hear her still scolding him unmercifully. He finally dropped off to sleep, and awoke, after a couple of hours, only to hear his wife remark:

"I hope all the married women don't have to put up with such conduct as this."

"Annie," said Smith, "are you talking again or yet?"—Harper's Weekly.

Relative to Insurance Legislation.

The Legislature should bear in mind, in dealing with the insurance question, that insurance is a necessity under modern trade conditions, and that the demand induced by the San Francisco fire is for legislation that will protect legitimate underwriting as well as policy holders. Notwithstanding the difficulty and delay in adjusting losses encountered in many instances, the candid verdict must be that the net result has been to vindicate the insurance business. Events have demonstrated that a large majority of the companies paid to the full extent of their moral liability, often going beyond legal liability, or paid to the extent of their ability. Fortunately, the amount of insurance in the wild cat companies was only a small percentage of the gross total, and the developments following the great fire had the effect of driving all such from this field and most of them out of business entirely. It is a significant fact that San Francisco collected a larger proportion of the face of her policies than did either Chicago, Boston or Baltimore. This alone should admonish the Legislature to be careful in imposing restrictions on the insurance business, especially as it has been shown that commercial honor proved a greater protection to the San Francisco policy holders than the letter of the law.

MILE LIMIT LAW UNCHANGED.

Editor TRIBUNE: Having been repeatedly asked by constituents residing in Oakland as to changes made by the present session in the "mile-limit" law, may I assure them through you that no change has been made that will affect in any way that law as it applies to Berkeley, Oakland or State institutions therein.

Very truly yours,
JOHN M. ESHLEMAN.

Lo, the New Indian.

An Iowa man tells of an amusing incident in connection with an exposition held in that State, whereat one of the attractions was the Indian Department, where the red men dwelt in their tepees and mimicked their own history in dances and mock-fights.

After one of these exhibtions by the Indians, a Boston girl undertook to talk to a young Indian brave. "Heap much fight," she said.

The red man smiled grimly, drew his blanket closer about his stalwart form, and replied:

"Yes; this is indeed a great Exposition. We flatter ourselves that our portion of the entertainment is by no means the least attractive here. May I presume to ask who it is that I have the honor to address?"

The Boston girl had been talking to a Carlisle graduate.—Harper's Weekly.

The Chilling Reply.

According to a Washington legal light, there are times when a lawyer regrets the use of an illustration which a moment before has appeared especially felicitous.

"The argument of my learned and brilliant colleague," said counsel for the plaintiff in a recent suit for damages from a railway company, "is like the snow now falling outside,—it is scattered here, there and everywhere."

Whereupon opposing counsel improved his opportunity. "All I can say," he hastily interposed, "is that the gentleman who has likened my argument to the snow now falling outside has neglected to observe one little point to which I flatter myself the similarity extends,—it has covered all the ground in a very short time."—Harper's Weekly.

No Longer Cheap.

'Twixt all supplies there seems a race
To reach the top notch first;
The cost of living grows apace,
And now we have the worst!

It almost makes the nation weep,
This rise o fone sad day,
For even talk's no longer cheap—
The Senate's raised its pay!

—Earle Hooker Eaton, in Harper's Weekly.

IS IN HIDING WITH INFANT

Mrs. Hall to Fight for Infant Claimed by Dr. Olive Carson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Fearing that Dr. Olive Carson will get possession of little Edna Hall, or Carson, over whom a legal contest is being waged by Dr. Carson and Mrs. Clara Hall, each of whom is trying to prove that she is the mother of the child, Mrs. Hall has gone into hiding in company with the little girl until the case is heard by Judge Seawell next Wednesday morning.

Attorney Frank P. Kelly, who represents Mrs. Hall, says that he can prove that Dr. Carson is not the mother of the child. He declares, too, that he will produce witnesses to prove that Mrs. Hall and her husband have paid Dr. Carson $15 a month regularly for the care of the child, in addition to furnishing her with clothes

Dr. Carson is confined to her bed as a result of the controversy over the child and she says she will be unable to stand the strain much longer. She declares she will have the child, even if she is compelled to take the law into her own hands to secure possession of her. No one denies that Dr. Carson, in the five years she has cared for the child, was affectionate and kind to it.

CLOSING ARGUMENTS.

ST LOUIS, Feb. 25.—The closing arguments in the ouster suit of the State against the Standard, Republic and Waters-Pierce oil companies were commenced today. Attorney General Hadley opened for the State.

At the conclusion of the arguments the evidence in the case will be submitted by Commissioner Anthony to the supreme court, together with a recommendation from him as to the proper judgment.

AGAINST RAILROADS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The cases of the Union Pacific and Burlington railroads against the various county treasurers of Nebraska, involving the tax rate upon the property of the railroad and calling into question the administration of the Nebraska State tax law, were decided adversely to the railroads by the Supreme Court of the United State today. The decision was announced by Justice Holmes.

A LARGE CONNECTION.

A Chinese cook in one of the homes on this side of the bay was terribly worried about his cousins who were in the burning town. Sing knew that Chinatown had been destroyed. He had tried to go across to rescue his relatives, but nobody was allowed to land.

He went about his duties with lagging footsteps and mournful face. For two days he ate nothing, and the sympathy of the entire family was extended to him in his trouble. At last he appeared one morning at breakfast time with a face wreathed in smiles.

"Me found cousins," he announced joyfully.

On being questioned he said that they were lodged in the two rooms which he rented for his own use in the lower part of the town. They were all well and he was "velly happy." He took 40 pounds of rice to them that they might not be hungry.

"But Sing, how many cousins have you?" Forty pounds seems a great deal."

He smiled his cat-like Oriental smile and spread his hands. "Me eighty cousins."—Exchange.

ROUSING TIME AT RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Feb. 25—Upon the recommendation of the committee appointed one week ago to draft a constitution and by-laws for the conduct of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, it was decided at a mass meeting of citizens Saturday evening to organize the proposed body under the corporation laws of the state. The report of the committee was accepted verbatim, a board of nine directors was selected, and about one thousand dollars of capital stock subscribed before the close of the meeting.

The organization of the Chamber of Commerce was effected primarily to boost for Richmond, and the enthusiastic manner in which the public spirited citizens and business men of the city are taking hold of the project brooks well for the accomplishment of much good and the entire success of the scheme. Rousing speeches were made at the mass meeting by those most vitally interested, each speaker being accorded an enthusiastic reception.

While the object of this organization is primarily to boost Richmond the tenets of the corporation are more specifically set forth by the committee in charge as follows:

"To consider and secure such legislation as will be for the best interests and benefit of the community; to urge and assist the proper authorities in the enforcement of all just laws and regulations governing municipalities without fear or favor; to advocate the pavement of streets, good and efficient school houses, the establishment and acquisition of parks and children's playgrounds, and the adoption of any and all other measures as will add to the comfort of residents and beautification and attractiveness of the city of Richmond; to originate and secure the adoption of such measures as will attract visitors and investors to this city and state.

To encourage the development of the resources of the city and state, and to induce and co-operate in the location of new enterprises of every kind and character in our community; to give reliable information to the members as to the financial standing and reliability of all persons applying for credit; to furnish reliable information to all proper inquiries as to the resources and advantages of our city and state, and to encourage in every honorable way the growth, prosperity and advancement of our young and growing city; to assist employers in securing reliable employees, and to protect members against frauds of every description; to aid members and the business interests of this city in general in the promotion of trade and recommending such regulations as may be expedient in furthering their several interests and the general welfare."

FEARS FOR PROSPERITY

Railroad Magnate. Interviewed Regarding Agitation Against Times.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—President William Truesdale, of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, in a published interview today is quoted as saying:

"A campaign of agitation against railroads, having its origin in high executive authority is being waged throughout the country. As it passes down the line each subordinate and each state and local authority strives to surpass his superior in zeal and increases its volume.

"At the same time there is manifest everywhere a spirit of unrest, and distrust regarding general financial conditions and the continuation of our great prosperity.

"I am not a financial expert and I do not pretend to analyze these monetary conditions. I have belief in the prosperity of the country, but I believe we are living in a time of as great inflation as during the greenback days following the close of the civil war.

"No doubt there is some justification for the public hostility against railroads. On the other hand there is little doubt that the condition complained of are not so bad or so universal as claimed.

"The tendency is to go to an extreme which will not serve merely to remedy conditions and practices that need attention, but extending far beyond, will so check and impede the operation of railroads as to affect general business interests. Then all will suffer together."

TEN-INNING TIE PLAYED ON CAMPUS AT ST. MARY'S

College Nine and Phoenix Battle Vainly—The Contest Replete With Spectacular Plays.

In a game bristling and sizzling with spectacular plays, the Phoenix Club of St. Mary's College held the All Stars to a ten-inning, one to one tie at the college campus yesterday afternoon.

St. Mary's experienced hard luck in several instances where had Dame Fortune, instead of her step-daughter, misfortune, been in attendance would have settled the contest in their favor.

In the tenth and final inning of the game Brown slammed one at Bert Croll, on which Croll gave an [illegible] and keen exhibition of finger billiards, then Enwright on the job, laid down a neat sacrifice. Feeney went out to Randolph.

It was up to Hamilton. The St. Mary's lad grasped his bat gritted his teeth and [illegible] to the plate. The slow-going Mr. Schimpff was not much perturbed [illegible] pitcher began a game of fence. Schimpff unwound himself and the course of the ball merely marked a burned spot on the atmosphere. Hamilton met the ball square on the gobbon. The tap looked good for at least two bases and to the St. Mary's partisans it looked to be all over [illegible] shouting. But something happened, which will remain a vivid picture in the minds of all who saw it for some time. With the crack of the bat [illegible]-fielder Hildebrand was on the scent and a pretty race between ball and fielder ensued. The betting was 1 to 100 that the ball would land safe. Just as it appeared that the ball had gotten beyond him Hildebrand, by a supreme effort, reached forth and picked it almost off his shoe strings. It was a wonderful climax to a wonderful game.

VAN'S CIRCUS PLAY.

Van Haltren also fathered a spectacular [illegible] play in the third inning. With Thompson resting easy on second base, Krause met one of Schimpff's careless curves and sent it on a clean route to center. Van Haltren lost the scent of the ball in the chase, but by a quick turn, a high jump and a wonderful lurch with his gloved hand he brought the ball out of mid-air and spoiled the chances of St. Mary's for a tally.

During the afternoon twenty-three players, some well and favorably known, took part in the frolic.

The All Stars were the first to get into the run column. Speedy Spencer, the first [illegible] up, whacked one of Krause's benders on the gobbeon and straightened it out for a two-base hit. Van Haltren went out, Hamilton to Hal Chase. Then Williams dropped a single over short and Spencer scored the only tally for the All-Stars. Nealon and Hildebrand closed the inning with easy outs.

Nothing doing for St. Mary's in the first inning, except Hamilton's slashing single and that winged-foot young Phoenix was tossed out at second by the demon tomato eater, Tom Hackett, when he attempted to pilfer second.

After Devereaux had fanned and Hackett had piffled to first base, George Croll bent his 200 pounds against one of Krause's shoots and sent it spinning to left center.

CROLL CARELESS.

Mr. Croll was in no mood for running and took only two bases on a rap that should have easily been a triple.

Croll was left "waiting at the chelck" as Schimpff lined an easy one to Krause.

Thompson was the only collegian to reach a base in the third. He rapped out a neat single, but he was foolish enough to try and steal second while Hackett was looking, and was an easy out.

Krause hung the "nothing doing" sign out in the third.

Brown succeeded Krause in the fourth and put the kalsomine on the Stars, which was going some. But for Feeney's headlong scurry over third base in the fourth the Phoenix would probably have [illegible]. Schimpff winged Feeney and that [illegible] 'gent' took second on a [illegible] by Hamilton. Then Chase [illegible] a single to short.

FEENEY FINICKY.

The winged foot Feeney like the man in the song didn't seem to know where he was going, but he was on his way. He rounded third base with the courage of a [illegible] in a hound's eye, but before he could get back Francks hurriedly returned the ball to Croll, who tapped Feeney where he wears the Union Label. Mr. [illegible] forgot the switch number on [illegible] rolled at first base too far [illegible] Schimpff caught him Italy napping.

St. Mary's scored their sole tally in the fifth inning. Burns singled and Hooper followed suit. Then Dunn, who took Thompson's place, dropped one down at Schimpff. Schimpff foozled and Burns scored. Hunno followed with a weak tap to Hack[ett] and Devereaux took care of Brown's easy tap.

The sixth and seventh were bloodless innings for the All-Star gentlemen. After Enwright fell by the wayside in the sixth inning Feeney was walloped on the funny bone and walked to first and Hamilton was easy for Devereaux. With Chase up and Feeney on second things looked bright for the Phoenix crew but Schimpff showed good judgment and walked Chase. Then Hooper was an easy out.

St. Mary's got two players on base again in the seventh but in the language of Dinkelspiel, "There was nothing doing."

Nothing doing for the Stars in the seventh and eighth. St. Mary's had a bloodless eighth and an equally bloodless ninth.

The Stars twinkled some in the ninth. Devereaux slammed one of Brown's benders on the beak for a double but Cornelies Francks and Croll failed signally to come to the reserve and what could poor Tall do? It was one-two-three for the Twinklers in the tenth.

Then that Catch of Hildebrand's.

DEMON RIGHT-FIELDER IS VICTIM OF DARING CROOKS

JIMMY SMITH LOSES PANTS

BY T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

From Pinole comes the startling news that Jimmy Smith, the demon right-fielder of the Commuters, has been the victim of daring burglars, who entered his place of abode, stole his Sunday trousers, and made a thrilling escape while Jimmy was pounding his ear.

The news of the burglary has tossed the otherwise peaceful and inoffensive town into the throes of excitement. (We use throes because we think it is a good word.)

The police and detective force, and heads of the police department of Pinole, which consists of Barlock Holmes, the wizard constable of Pinole is now on the trail.

The correspondent of the Pinole Pinhead sends us a lurid interview which he overheard between the pantless demon outfielder and the "wiz" constable.

"The 'wiz' wore his face in the same mysterious way," says our interviewer, "when he approached the demon outfielder.

HE WAS BURGLED.

"Be you the man who was burgled?" was the first weighty question that the "wiz" got off his system.

"I be," responded Smith and a death-like silence ensued.

"Who got the worst of it, you or the burglar?" continued the "wiz."

"I got the worst of it, but the burglar got a worse pair of pants," responded the demon right fielder, with a wireless chuckle.

"The plot thickens," fairly hissed Barlock, while he poked the embers in his clay pipe. Thinking it was his turn to do some startling thinking Jimmy rolled a trusty "dig" and lit it.

"Can you state the value of the trousers, Mr. Smith," questioned the "wiz."

"Nit, and then no," responded the demon right fielder.

And continuing in rebuttal the demon right fielder went on. "You see those pants were full of checks."

"Yes," respond the demon outfielder.

"Ah ha!" ejaculated Barlock Holmes. (Ejaculated is also a good word), and almost shrieking he demanded the "photog."

"I can't" hissed the demon outfielder.

"Say not so," declared Barlock.

"But it's only a mental picture," interjected the demon rightfielder. (Interject is not a bad word.)

"Have you any idea as to who the burglar was or is?" continued Barlock.

"No," replied Smith. "Tom Hackett is in Oakland."

"The mystery deepens," declared Barlock.

THE DEMON MUSES.

"Quite so; quite so," mused the demon rightfielder.

"Can you let me see a pair that looks like the ones you lost?" continued the "wiz."

"Not," responded the demon outfielder. "I'm taking no chances." The demon then turned questioner.

"Do you think," Barlock, that you'll recover the pants?" asked the demon.

"Not yet, but soon," replied Barlock. And the plot still thickens.

BOOST IN SALARIES.

According to reports in baseball circles Oakland is still having some trouble with certain players. Those on the inside say that Heitmuller, Randolph and Hopkins are holding out for a boost in their salaries. There is every prospect for the existing differences to be settled before the season opens.

"Spit-ball" Bob Ewing is to be dropped by Cincinnati, and if he is not transferred to Boston he will likely go to Toledo.

Columbus will have four former big leaguers on its pitching staff next season. They are Wicker, Robertaille, Townsend and Vell.

Good news. Charley Power, the former umpire, who is now writing baseball for a Pittsburg paper, warns the Pittsburg officials that they had better look out for Dovey's Boston Nationals. If Power were younger we would suspect that he was trying to get George Dovey to sign him to play ball.

* * *

Jesse Burkett is out with a proposition empowering the New England league umpires to impose heavy fines upon all ball players who use profanity on the ball field. If Jesse doesn't look out he will be made an honorary member of the Anti-Profanity league.

* * *

No young outfielder, no matter what his minor league record is, can break into the quartet that Detroit has in line—Crawford, Cobb, McIntyre and Jones. It is doubtful if $25,000 could purchase this outfield from Owner Yawkey. The youngster is simply up against it when he tries to break into outfield society there.

HOW PUGS AND THE PUBLIC VIEW BILL SQUIRES.

CORBETT WILL STRIVE TO MAKE A CHAMPION OUT OF BIG GERMAN

Jim Becomes Manager of Schreck in Chicago.

Believes His Man Has an Equal Chance With Jeffries.

By EDDIE SMITH

The following letter from Jim Corbett, the ex-champion of the world, to Otto Floto of Denver would indicate that Jim has assumed the management of the big Chicago German. If Corbett is sincere in his boast that he will make Schreck the heavyweight champion, we should be willing to give him a chance for Corbett, to my knowledge, has never been in the habit of boosting dead ones.

Corbett is of the opinion that Schreck would have more than an equal chance to beat Jefferies and gives as his reason that the big fellow is not the man he was before he retired; high living and no exercise are also given as good reasons. That Jeff is not the man he was no one can deny, for we have no way of determining as to his condition until he gets into action with an opponent.

NO HIGH LIVING.

But as to high living and lack of exercise I am inclined to differ with the ex-champ. Ask anyone who is intimately acquainted with Jeff about his high living and you will receive the same answer from them all and that is, "not so his wife can notice it." Mrs. Jeff is not the one to allow her Jamsey to stray too far away from his fireside and barring the occasional good time at Los Angeles he has, the big fellow is leading the simple life. As to exercise, he no doubt gets some puttering around the alfalfa patch. The only exercise he does not get is with the boxing gloves, and as he really hates the sight of a padded glove it is dollars to stale doughnuts that a Pinkerton search of the premises would fail to locate anything resembling a boxing glove.

CHANCES SLIM.

The chances of Schreck ever reaching the top of the ladder, to me, looks very slim. He has been beaten within the past three years by Jack O'Brien, by Jack Sullivan twice, and fought draws with such men as Hugo Kelly, Marvin Hart and Dave Barry. Corbett speaks of his record and says it impresses him. How it can is more than I can figure, for any man who can not beat all the Harts, Barrys, Sullivans and O'Briens in one week looks to me to have a small chance of beating the boilermaker, fighter and farmer. Here is his letter, however, in which he tells of his plans:

(By James J. Corbett.)

Jeff when he was good could have beaten Schreck, overpowering him with his huge bulk and massive strength, but Jeff today is not the Jeff of years ago. Ease and high living, lack of exercise and training have practically unfitted him for pugilism, and if he went into the ring against a fast, hard hitting fellow like Schreck he would be at a disadvantage.

MIKE BADLY TRAINED.

The great fault with Schreck has been his training. He has not been well handled.

He needs a special kind of preparation to fit him to battle with the top notchers. He must be trained to the right degree of hardness and speed. He does not need muscular exercises, wrestling and the pulley machines, but he does need lots of fast road work, lots of hard grueling fighting with the fastest boxers he can get before him and he needs someone to keep him down to work all the time and all the way.

He is a glutton for work when headed right, but it takes persuasion to get him there. I believe I can handle him to the best advantage.

When I have him matched with O'Brien, Burns, Johnson or any of these big fellows, I'll give up my theatrical work and take charge of his training myself. I cannot promise to fit him for the ring in a few weeks, for it will take me some time to get him ready. I can prepare him for a match in the spring, however, and if there is a match made I will do this.

If we get a fight at one of the Nevada fight clubs I'll go out there with him and start in working him. I expect to bring him down to about 180 pounds, while he now weighs nearly 200. At this weight he will be fast as a wildcat, wiry as a kangaroo and full of fight.

What gives me so much faith in Schreck is his record and what I have seen of him. I have been hearing of him for a long time and have been interested in him for many months following his career.

Here is how I size him up:

HE HAS THE PUNCH.

He can deliver a knockout with either hand from any angle.

He has the speed and the quickness of mind necessary to a real champion.

He is game to the core; can take a fearful walloping and still be there with the strength to bring him home the money with one punch.

He fights by instinct. He is not a made boxer, but a natural fighter who battles like the bulldog fights, by natural disposition and predilection.

He has the size and weight and the stamina to go the distance. And the further the fight goes the better he becomes.

These are the reasons I have singled out why he should be the champion and upon this argument I base my belief in Schreck. I am going to make him the world's heavyweight champion inside of two years and if I fail I will forfeit $1000 to any worthy charity you may select.

ALL LOOK ALIKE.

Johnson, Hart, O'Brien, Tommy Burns, Bill Squires, Jim Jeffries, all look alike to me, and I will match Schreck to meet any of them. Bring on your fighters, gentlemen, we are ready for you.

When Mike Schreck knocked out George Gardner at Salt Lake, the Lowell man was a wonder and this coupled with the fact that Fitzsimmons called off his match with Mike at Salt Lake after he had been given Mike's number, is evidence enough for me to prove that Schreck is the coming heavyweight champion. Though I have been sparring continually, just enough to keep me in shape, I never was put to a severe tryout until when I boxed three fast rounds with Mike at the Shamrock Athletic club. The big German is fast and moreover he is very clever and his tapping is more like the present day would-be fighter's hardest wallop.

MELLODY AND THOMAS ARE MATCHED

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—Honey "Bill" Mellody of Boston and Joe Thomas of San Francisco, both claimants for the welterweight title, were matched here yesterday to fight for the weter-weight championship of the United States. According to the agreement the men will fight six rounds at the National Athletic Club on Wednesday, March 6th, for a purse consisting of 60 per cent of the gate receipts.

STANFORD WILL AGAIN DISCUSS VARSITY MEET

Committee Warns Berkeley, However, That Decision of the Conference May Not Be Held Final.

The executive committee received an answer Friday to their letter to the Stanford committee in regard to the place for holding the varsity feet. In reply to the proposition that was made them to hold another meeting between the committees from each university to decide the dispute, Stanford writes that they are willing to send a committee to such a conference on February 28, but that they will not give this committee full power to decide. California is willing to abide by any decision made by its committee, but the Stanford student body will not do so, but retain the power to ratify or nullify any agreement which their representatives make. The executive committee is in favor of another meeting of the conference committees but on that condition that any decision they reach should be final. A reply will not be sent Stanford, however, until after the regular meeting of the committee Wednesday evening.

STRICT TRAINING BEGINS.

Regular training for freshman track athletes will begin today and every first year man out for any of the events will be expected to live up to the rules laid down by Trainer Christie. Skating rinks are tabooed and any freshman found at a rink will be dropped from the eligible list. Dancing is to be cut out, also late hours, and smoking. Varsity men will begin their systematic training one week from today. If the weather and the condition of the track will permit Trainer Christie will hold the first freshman tryout on Saturday.

Christie said yesterday in regard to training: "It is time now for the freshman to sit up and take notice. Things have been going along sort of slowly, but now the real work begins and the picking of the men who are in earnest and who are in the game to fight will be easy when the work is hard. If the weather is good this week I want every freshman to get out every night. The time is short and there is not one athlete who can afford to lose a day. I have had too many excuses since the beginning of the term; the fellows must cut these out and get busy. This applies not only to freshmen but to men out for the varsity."

HERMAN A BENEDICT, IS "MISTER" LANDFIELD NOW

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—"Kid" Herman met his fate last night. Before a large gathering at the Unity Club he put on the gloves—they were white kids—with Miss Matilda Graff. Rabbi Julius Newman refereed the match, which was a love match, and counted the "Kid" out of single blessedness for keeps.

When the "Kid" came to he declared he was through with the fighting game. "I am Kid Herman no longer," he said. "I am Mr. Herman Landfield now, with the accent on the Mister. Once I was a pugilist. Now I am a business man."

The bride and groom arrived in an automobile. The wedding ceremony was after the quaint ritual of the Orthodox Jews. After a wedding feast the company danced until after midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Landfield will spend their honeymoon in Florida and Cuba.

It is not necessary for the Kid to fight for a living, as he is interested with the Landfield Bros., cigar manufacturers of Chicago. The Kid, while always a willing fighter of ability, has never been regarded as a dangerous man and the public has never taken him seriously enough to make him a good card. His looser's end of the Gans fight was the largest purse he ever won, in fact it was more than he had before that earned in two winning fights.

EDWARDS MAY MEET KNIGHT BEFORE RELIANCE CLUB

Owing to the unfortunate ending of Henry Loague's brother, it will be necessary to substitute a contest in his place at the Reliance Club boxing contests tomorrow night. Every effort is to be made in an endeavor to secure a suitable opponent for Willie Johnson, who was to meet Loague.

Several have made application for the place, but none have been selected. The match-maker insists that the contest must be in every way as good as the original one. In case a suitable opponent for Johnson cannot be found Frankie Edwards may be given a chance to show he is not afraid of Phil Knight. This would prove a good contest in which both men would be in action at all times.

Kid Webster and Jockie Worthington are also a possible match. This match has been hanging fire for some time and both boys are in good condition and ready for the gong. The remainder of the card is of such a high-class order that the losing of the main event will not injure it much.

Jack Evans and Jack Ward, who meet in the special event, are really main eventers and some of the preliminaries have class that entitle them to a better place on the card. Otto Horn vs. Jerry Fairbanks, Jack Winn vs. Kid Parker, Frankie Smith vs. Kid West and A. Long vs. Eddie Martin will furnish the evening's sport.

HATCHET OF WAR HAS BEEN BURIED BY BAY OARSMEN

Oarsmen of San Francisco and vicinity buried the hatchet last week, when the officers of the Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen met the officers of the Pacific Athletic Association in the rooms of the Olympic Club. A reunion of the rowing interests was advocated by William Greer Harrison, President of the Olympic Club; T. I. Fitzpatrick, President of the Pacific Athletic Association; C. E. A. Creighton, President of the South End Rowing Club; A. G. Bell, J. J. Cronin and J. von Staden. It was unanimously voted to submit to the respective clubs the following proposition:

"That the Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen as an organization join the Pacific Athletic Association, upon the understanding that the Olympic Club will join the Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen."

This leaves only the South Ends out of the combination, and Fitzpatrick and Cronin will recommend to that club that it follow the lead of the Olympic Club.

William Greer Harrison expressed a desire to do all in his power to advance the interests of the oarsmen. On behalf of the Olympic Club, he offered all the prizes for a regatta to be held under the auspices of the Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen. This offer will not affect the annual regatta on Lake Merritt on the Fourth of July, which will be held as usual. It will assure, however, a regatta on this side of the bay, probably during the autumn.

President Harrison extended an invitation to the Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen to hold all of its meetings at the Olympic Club.

By the terms of the suggested agreement all rowing interests on the bay will be under the control of the Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen, but the latter will be subject to the rules of the Pacific Athletic Association, which is the coast representative of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

CANDIDATES FOR CREW WORK HARD

The proposed tryouts for the freshman crew were held last Friday morning on the Oakland estuary. The weather was bad but the full squad turned out and fourteen men tried out for places on the four. The competition for places has been keen for the last two weeks. Three men were finally chosen, however, and the competition for the fourth place narrowed down to two men. A. W. Sperry made stroke, A. Schroder, No. 2; H. H. Ashley, No. 3, and I. G. Markwart and E. S. Robinson are running a close race for the bow oar. This crew will begin active training immediately. Garnet expressed himself as much pleased over the work of the first year men and is very hopeful regarding their prospects of beating the Stanford babies in April.

SANTA CRUZ, Feb. 25.—Although Frank Arellanes, the local twirler, has received orders to report at Bakersfield on March 1 to begin training with the San Francisco team, he says that he will cast his lot with the San Jose State League team, as the inducements offered him by Manager Mayer are better from a financial standpoint. Arellanes won eighteen out of twenty games he played for San Jose last season, and was considered the best slab artist in the State League.

SAN JOSE NOW AFTER HARRY WOLTERS

SAN JOSE, Feb. 25.—Not content with having seen Henderson, Donahue, Mitchell and Arellanes practically grabbed from the Coast League, the managers of the San Jose team are attempting to breed discontent in the mind of Harry Wolters, the young twirler who made good with Fresno last year in the Coast League and who is under contract to play the coming season with Cincinnati. Wolters is not particularly anxious to join Connie Mack's aggregation, and it is only a question of salary which will keep him from remaining in San Jose. His contract with Mack calls for $200 a month. Manager Mayer has offered him a situation here worth $75, with the privilege of many days off, and $100 a month to play ball.

Mike Riley is again bounding into the limelight by offering Cyclone Thompson a fight with Harry Lewis at 142 pounds. The weight is a little too much for Thompson but if he is unsuccessful in getting on with Hyland he will accept the Tonopah offer of 60 per cent of the receipts after the referee and preliminaries are paid. This would probably leave about 70 per cent for the fighters.

My what a drop for Mr. Riley, the man who started out to make Tex Rickard hunt a hole after offering $25,000 for Britt and Gans.

HAL CHASE WILL PLAY WITH GOTHAM

FIRST BASEMAN AND GRIFFITH COME TO AN UNDERSTANDING.

Matter of Dollars and Cents Had Delayed His Signing Contract.

Hal Chase, king-pin of all the first baxemen, declared yesterday to the writer that he and Griffith had caressed and made up and that he would be back in the New York Highlanders' line-up again the coming season.

There was some difference of salary between New York and Mr. Chase.

During the contract season Frank Farrell mailed Chase one of those winsome documents. When Chase beheld the salary numerals he got writers' cramps and failed to sign. Then old Doc Farrele consulted with old Doc Griffith and the two decided that a paultice of greenbacks applied to Chase's wrist would reduce the cramps. Farrell dug into his jeans, produced a bale of greenbacks, which would have choked a walrus and applied it to Chase's wrist and Chase immediately got busy with his pen and that little thoroughfare they call Broadway is no longer in mourning.

Hildebrand could never plead emotional insanity, if he was charged with highway robbery for taking yesterday's game from St. Mary's. That tenth inning catch put the "Citrus Lemonum" in the water can of St. Mary's for good.

* * *

Tweeney must be a bird. He was winged twice by Sharpshooter Schimpff yesterday.

* * *

Hamilton made good with the willow. He lambasted out two singles and dropped down a neat sacrifice. Going some, kid!

* * *

Big Joe Nealon was out for a breeze yesterday. The big Pittsburg star is looking himself again. Joe was not over-well the greater part of last season, but he made good in whoop-la fashion in the National League. Right and at himself Nealon is a player who has few equals and the writer predicts a brilliant season for the young Samson this season. Joe will leave to join the Pittsburg team at West Baden, Ind., early in March.

* * *

Tom Hackett had his steely arm and steely eye on all the St. Mary base stealers yesterday and the stealing the Phoenix boys did would never call for a grand jury investigation.

* * *

Van Haltren tried to steal second on Burns in the third inning and Van is of age too. We thought Van was old enough to know better.

* * *

Brown will pitch for the Sacramento State League team this season. He is going to be the sole proprietor of a cigar store in the Capital City. Seems like most of the Coast Leaguers are getting the cigar store habit. Ask Bill Devereaux.

Mique Fisher, whose name reminds one of St. Patrick and the twelve tribes was the demon umpire and contributed a simoleon to the good cause. Going some for one "gent."

Krause pitched only three innings yesterday because St. Mary's is saving the southpaw gentleman for that little tete-tete the Phoenix Club will hold with Stanford's Cardinaled warriors Tuesday afternoon.

* * *

The ladies and "gents" and beauts and chivalry gathered at the campus shook themselves down for $25.50 for the good cause.

* * *

Kruger got in the game in the fifth inning. Artie smashed out a hard wallop but it fell into the spacious paws of Joe Nealon.

Clarence Duggon, shortstop for St. Mary's and by the same token a fine broth of a boy, was out of the game yesterday owing to a recent injury. Clarence is going to play with one of the Northwestern League teams, which shows the inertness of Coast League in allowing budding local talent to drift astray.

* * *

Nick Williams' single in the first inning was a beaut, and timely.

* * *

By a spectacular play in the ninth, Chase robbed Hildebrand of a hit in the ninth inning. But that's the Chase way. And may be that's the reason Hildebrand made that catch of his in the tenth. We think Hilde got more than even on that.

* * *

* * *

The three-score and more youngster, Brother Agnon, was a spectator, and took the keen delight of a boy in watching the young men of St. Mary's defend the half century-old baseball honor of St. Mary's College.

BALL PLAYERS ARRIVING IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Members of the big baseball leagues, ready for their annual meeting and ratification of their schedules for the coming campaign, began to arrive in New York yesterday and by nightfall most of the delegates were in town. At 1 p. m. the delegates went into executive session, and tonight the American League schedule will be given out for publication tomorrow.

President Johnson said:

"The outlook in the American League was never brighter, and I think baseball will enjoy a greater boom this year than ever in the history of the game."

Mr. Johnson said his league would wind up its meeting tomorrow evening and the national committee would have a brief session on Wednesday.

When asked if his league had any suggestions for changes in the rules, Mr. Johnson said he knew of none.

The national league has no important business on hand beyond the adoption of their schedule, which will be published Wednesday morning.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO TURFMEN ALL OVER THE COUNTRY

PICKED UP AT WILLIAMS PARK

By LEE DEMIER.

Scoville came to the front last week by piloting five winners. Miller succeeded in winning with thirteen of his mounts. He rode practically 40 per cent of winners during his stay here, which is certainly a phenomenal record. Leroy Williams' work the past week was most indifferent and he will have to do something in the very near future to redeem himself. The record of the jockeys up to date is as follows:

INDEPENDENTS TAKE FRISCO'S MEASURE

BOYS ACROSS BAY ARE OUTPLAYED AT ALL POINTS.

Goal Defense of Mizen Was Strong Factor in the Victory.

The Independents took the measure of the San Francisco team at Oakland yesterday afternoon to the tune of two goals to nothing. San Francisco played gallantly, but were outclassed by the more skillful Independents.

Mizen, who formerly played with the San Francisco team, was in the goal for the Independents and played a nice, clean, defensive game. His goal tending was one of the features.

Duncanson put in some fine clearances for the Indies, and it was largely due to his efforts that Mayling's wing runs and center were neutralized. Tommy Fay was in grand fettle and started an onslaught on his opponents' goal, but the weakness of his colleagues was apparent when within shouting distance. Mizen, in the center of the vanguard, missed two easy chances with an open goal, and Spencer transferred hostilities to the other goal.

BURST OF ATTACK.

Pegg was rarely troubled and was not prepared for the burst of attack which resulted in Burns notching the first goal for the San Francisco team. The Indies then commenced to settle down to business and gave a few glimpses of their old-time cup form. From a free kick, nicely placed by Duncanson, "Our Tommy" put his side on level terms and the scores were still even on changing ends.

On restarting, the left wing of San Francisco made a brilliant move toward the Independent goal. Gus Spencer just missed by inches. The Independents were awarded a penalty kick for some infringement of the rules, though most people maintained that the punishment was too severe, but the chance was lost. McAffee making a wonderful save from Duncanson's shot. Then the Indies commenced to pepper their opponents goal in earnest and finally, after a pretty single-handed run, Balmain redeemed his earlier efforts by scoring the winning goal for his side.

The San Francisco contingent certainly handed a surprise packet to the fans, who had them beaten by four clear goals before the game. McAffee made one mistake in goal, which resulted in the Indies' first score, but otherwise his display was brilliant in the extreme.

STRONG GAME.

Routledge played a strong game at left-full, and was unfortunate in allowing Balmain to break through for the second goal.

Kirvin never played better kicking, tackling and stopping rushes. Airey is a clever half and feeds his wing to a nicety. W. Spencer, at center-half is a wonder full of legs, which find the ball at any height.

McGrain emulated the example of his conferees and was playing strong at the finish. The forwards were best represented by the left wing, Mayling and "Gus" Spencer.

McGee played a nice clean game at center-forward. Burns was very ordinary in the first period, but the "old man" woke up in the second half. Otterson worked the ball down the field well, but finished execrably.

PEGG DOES WELL.

Pegg had little to do, but he did that little well. Duncanson was easily the best man on either side. Souter, his partner, also played well on the whole, but miskicked a few times in the first half. Mizen did not justify expectations and would have looked better in a jersey, as he did not play the Independent style of soccer.

Balmain was not much, but his one beautiful effort paid for all. Eddy Fay has played better and should keep his old position. The same applies to Jones.

Feuster was a little slack on some of his decisions, it evidently being an off-day with him. The line-up follows:

Women Avoid Operations

MISS ROSE MOORE

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 36th St., N. Y. She writes:—

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

SMALL BOYS KISS A WOMAN'S HAND WHEN INTRODUCED NOW

This European Custom Has Been Revived by the Grandson of Major-General Grant, U. S. A.---Little Girls Courtesy With a Dip When Presented.

To be well mannered when they are grown, children should have politeness and the small courtesies of life early instilled into them. A pleasing manner helps either a man or a woman in the battle of life, and politeness is never thrown away. There is no doubt but that it adds to a person's attractiveness, and so I say, do train your children in the little graces that are not "airs" but important.

Etiquette for little folk today is as clearly defined as is that for their elders, but the underlying rule of good breeding changes little. "Thank you" is quite as good form as ever, and it is a mistake some persons have in thinking that a certain indifference to small courtesies denotes savoire faire. To the contrary, savoire faire is shown by the graciousness in which the most trifling service is received.

A woman cannot begin too early to train her child to say "thank you," even to servants.

Women who insist upon the most approved form for their children have the person's name repeated always at the end of a sentence, or instead of "ma'am" or "sir." For instance, it is considered better form for a child to say, "Yes, mother," than "Yes, ma'am" At the end of the sentence the name is supposed to be used always, as, for instance, if the child is answering a question of Mrs. Smith's, he says, "Yes Mrs Smith," not "Yes, ma'am," as in the days of old. This is a trifling change, but it denotes the carefully trained child

One of the prettiest old customs revived is that for little girls who now always courtesy when being introduced to an old person It is not the deep sweeping courtesy of the minuet, but a little bobbing dip, more like that of the milk maid in a light opera chorus It takes not more than a second, and is done by putting the right foot a little behind the left, raising the right heel and bending the right knee a little With the left hand at the same time the child holds her little skirt near the hem and spreads it the merest trifle. It is extremely pretty and quaint.

This form of salutation among girls has quite done away with the handshake, but if an older person offers the hand the child should be taught to take it immediately the courtesy has been given

The European custom of clicking the heels together in military fashion and bowing deeply from the waist down, is coming into vogue for the best bred American boys. The right arm is bent at the elbow and held across the body, while the bow comes not from the head, but from the waist.

Farther than this are European manners being carried, for many boys are being taught to kiss the hand of a lady on greeting her. The deep bow is given, and the hand kissed at the same time.

The little son of the Princess Cantacuzene has been pointed out core than once this winter as a model while he visits his grandparents, General and Mrs. Grant. His manners would be a credit to a grown man of the world

On the theory that one cannot begin too soon to inculcate good table manners, it is no longer considered good form for a child to tuck a napkin into its neck From the time, as a baby, bibs are given up, the napkin always lies in the lap, and the child is taught to eat carefully and slowly Years ago a child was scarcely reprimanded if in eating it spilled a drop of liquid or a morsel of food on its napkin tucked under the chin. It is now considered as reprehensible for a child as for a grown person.

Both boys and girls should be taught always to let an elder person go through a door first, and boys should be made to stand aside for girls, even if the boys are not big. It goes without saying that boys should be taught to pick up a handkerchief or anything that falls to the ground, and girls should be taught it, too.

Indeed, to wait upon all older persons and all girls should be imbued early into the masculine mind, and all girls should be trained to wait upon older persons, both men and women.

This picture shows Mme. Le Bargy, noted French actress, who has been divorced by her husband because she had eloped with the son of former President of France Casimir Perier

RAISING A LARGE FAMILY ON 60 CENTS A DAY!

Ask Bob Jenett farm hand of Simpson County Ky He is doing it

Farm hand Jenett has a wife and fifteen children They are housed clothed and fed on his wages which amounts to the most sum of $18 a month or 60 cents a day Some days he doesn't work And they have three big meals every day seven days a week and they all have clothes and shoes and a roof over their heads at night

Really the Jennetts don't realize what they are doing Th youngsters imagine that their lot is the same as that of the average child the whole country over They are fat hearty and bubbling over with good spirits

Until nine months ago it was not any problem at all There were only twelve of the Jennett children big and little but then the triplets came It took almost all of Mrs Jennett's time to care for them but Farm-hand Jennett shouldered his spade and went to work with a will

He won out And he isn't half as proud about it as his wife is The whole country knows of the struggles of the Jennets and takes pride with them in the successful solution of the problem They have had their pictures taken and they have told to the correspondent of The Sunday World just how they have done it

'You see' said Mrs Jennett a kindly motherly soul as she gave the triplets their gruel we got married more than twenty years ago My husband had children already—he had been married before We had always been used to working hard we were brought up on farms both of us None of Bob's children were old enough to work so we had to take care of them all Then more children came Sometimes when I think it all over I don't know how we managed and now that we have the triplets I have stopped guessing But they have always had enough to eat and enough to wear and I don't think they are any worse off for it than most children

'Most women think three children about all they can manage Well, we had twelve already and three came all at once I guess Mr Roosevelt won't ever talk to us about race suicide But they were a blessing and we are both glad to work just so much harder for them And with Bob's 60 cents a day we get along

Bob Jennett wanted to tell about the more practical side of the problem of feeding seventeen on 60 cents a day and he did

'Now," he said 'the price of wages in this part of Kentucky is 60 cents a day I don't know anything more than doing chores about a farm and there are plenty who will take the job at 60 cents a day I never could get any more Sometimes I couldn't even get work at that price

'I don't want to let people think it has been easy because it hasn't When you're out of work you miss the 60 cents a day a powerful lot But all I ask is work and I can make the 60 cents a day go around

When I am out of work the neighbors help out Some of them have given us old clothes and some have brought us a shoulder of ham or a side of bacon That pieces out powerfully Sometimes a farmer gives us a sack of meal too, and you don't know how far that goes when there's fifteen youngsters crying for something to eat three times a day

"Beg? No 'siree! Everything we ever got was given All I ever asked was to be let off my poll tax A dollar a year is an awful lot to pay when you haven't got it

We never lived anywhere except in Simpson County and I don't think I could I don't think I could have kept the whole lot of them anywhere else Things cost money when you live in a town

The letters I get from all over the country make me laugh People think it can't be done—this supporting a family of fifteen children on 60 cents a day My answer is that I do it

JULIA MARLOWE TO THE STAGE-STRUCK GIRL

Few girls grow up without passing through the stage-struck phase; and, sooner or later; they all come or write to Julia Marlowe for advice. With all her amiability, the actress usually has to decline the role of Little Mother to the Aspiring. But here is where she complies, with her customary tact, kindness and good sense.

By JULIA MARLOWE

There is no other profession more honorable than acting there is no other art more exalted The mediaeval prejudice against players has passed away The young woman sacrifices neither dignity, position nor self respect when she becomes an actress to appreciative minds there can be no satisfaction so great as attempting to portray in actual life the characters drawn by great dramatists and poets the art combines something of all the other arts and in a way transcends them all and, lastly the woman who masters it is greater than a queen

Now for the means What is the course that will with opportunity and ability lead the budding actress to success? Hard question!

First I should say, study study study! Nothing else will avail no adventitious aids of good looks or graceful bearings—nothing but incessant toil over her part plucking out the heart of its mystery.

As we have nothing in this country answering to the Paris Conservatoire let the beginner when she has learned the alphabet of her art seek an engagement with a company playing classical plays No other means of instruction open to her will be so available She will learn then if she is observant and studious the requirements of acting and wherein she and others fail to meet these requirements

I suggest the classic drama because therein she is more likely to get a grounding in the rudiments Mr Irving said If one can play the legitimate one can play anything

Never imitate anyone Be yourself Hearing night after night the same persons recite the same lines in the same way it will require careful watching at times to avoid falling into their peculiarities Have a method and conviction of your own Indeed have a conviction—the method is likely to come of itself

Never go beyond your feeling If you would enlarge your action you must first enlarge your feeling and to do that, have recourse to the book, always the book

The opinion we occasionally hear that 'it is only necessary to look well' for that is half the battle is intrinsically erroneous except possibly from the commercial point of view which I wish to eliminate entirely from the present consideration of the subject

Qualities that I should insist upon as necessary for a successful beginner are first a power to feel the character represented—an intellectual and moral discernment of the temperament of that character and the feeling and passions which move it coupled with some appreciation of its proper outward expression in cast of voice figure and features

A second quality I should require would be a measure of literary taste and cultivation a sympathy with the beauties of language a power of translating the mind of literature into feeling

WIFE WANTS PROPERTY AND NOT THE CASH

Widow of a Denver Man Files Objection to Will---Does Not Conform With Provisions of Statutes.

DENVER Colo Feb 25—Franziska Freedheim widow of the late Louis G Freedheim has filed an objection to his will on the ground that it does not conform to the provisions set forth in the statutes

Upon his death it was found that Mr Freedheim had willed that his property be converted into cash after which one half was to be given his wife and the other half to the Jewish Relief society of Denver the Cleveland Orphan asylum of Cleveland O and the Jewish Consumptive Relief society of Denver He also bequeathed $100 to Celia Faller daughter of the family with whom he spent his last days

The objection that Mrs Freedheim raises is that her half of the property is to be converted into cash before she gets it She wishes the property as it stands because a great deal of it will increase in value as the years roll by while some of it produces considerable rent annually

Mr Freedheim was seventy-four years of age at the time of his death. He left several children all grown to each of whom he left $1 00 Their names are Evan Freedheim Denver Alfred H Freedheim, Denver; Hugo H Freedheim, Twin Falls, Idaho and Selma Strauss Denver

The case was set for hearing in the county court

Nor has it been explained why if Harry Thaw and his wife dreaded and feared Stanford White so greatly they spent all their time loafing around White's New York haunts The Thaw home is in Pittsburg

THE ARTIST OF THE WOOD.

In early fall the maple leaf,
Its colors many hued,
Leads all the trees in rich attire
And fills the heart with great desire
To know the Artist of the wood

The magic brush that painted these
Was held by master hand
The Mighty God omnipotent,
Upon a gracious mission bent
To make the changing wood look grand

He touches true Canadian hearts
With spirit colors fine
The warm tints are the love He bears
That thrills you when you touch with theirs
In pleasant fellowship divine

THE AMERICAN IDEA OF MOTHERHOOD

A THREE YEARS' CAREFUL INVESTIGATION DISPROVES THE FEAR OF RACE SUICIDE.

A hundred years ago the average American family consisted of eight children now the average American family consists of two children A hundred years ago childless marriages were looked upon as a chastisement of God now they are regarded by thousands of people as the ideal state of marriage And nine out of ten persons if asked what they consider the ideal number of children will say "Two—a boy and a girl

This 'ideal' of a family one or two children is not confined to the large cities or to the East It prevails all over the country except in the small towns and villages of the South Nor is it only the idle rich and the college graduates who wish small families or none at all this desire to limit the size of the family has taken possession of vast numbers of moderately well-to-do and moderately well educated people

The situation is a serious one We, as a nation are deliberately ceasing to reproduce our kind, except in the poorest and most ignorant classes of society

What are the reasons for this?

Is this growing tendency to limit the size of the family a good thing or a bad thing for the nation?

Does it mean that the individual is more selfish or that he is more conscientious?

In 'The American Idea," to be published this month by A. S. Barnes & Co Mrs L K Commander presents the results of three years of energetic investigation of these questions She has gathered opinions at first hand from hundreds of people in different parts of the country. By personal interviews and correspondence she has obtained the views of men and women famous in their professions and business

However it is not only eminent people whom she has questioned almost all classes of society are represented in the book the author's aim was to get the feeling of the great American public on these questions "Rich man, poor man beggar man thief, doctor lawyer merchant, chief are almost all represented in this valuable and astonishing collection of testimony

Physicians to the rich and physicians to the poor were interviewed From far and wide they reported practically the same thing, that parents who want more than two children are rarely found Thirty-eight out of forty-six physicians in one city replied when asked what they found to be the ideal American family, "Two children—a boy and a girl"

One physician whose patients have incomes of from $3 000 to $5 000 a year said —'Among my patients I find that the majority do not want any children, certainly not more than one I should say that, as a rule, the second is an accident the third a misfortune, and the fourth a tragedy."

It is among the ignorant poor, the people who are always being helped by charity, that there is no attempt to restrict reproduction Such people have no sense of responsibility, either as citizens or parents, they expect the charity organizations and the settlements to help them until the children can earn a few cents to "help along" They have no ideals for their children beyond the hope that, as soon as possible they will get to work and be able to hold their job What chance has a family of seven or eight children to become skilled in a trade or profession, to become educated, thoughtful, valuable citizens when the income of the parents is not sufficient to take care of more than one child?

It is because of the lack of responsibility in such parents that the State of New York pays $2 000 000 annually for the care of dependent children There are 150 000 children kept by charity, not including the blind, deaf or feeble minded.

The small family is advisable in the class of only moderately well to do people because there is not money enough to equip a large family for the struggle in our modern industrial and business world. But what are the reasons why women who can afford children have only one child or very often have none at all? Mrs. Commander says —"There is a stretch of fifteen blocks on Fifth Avenue in which there are only fifteen children It is here, where women have unlimited leasure and liberty, that fewest children are to be found' The testimony from physicians whose patients are rich and idle women is appalling "They do not want children because children invoke sacrifices and activity. Their one ambition is pleasure and show" "Idle women will not have children because they are too busy with their amusements and their love affairs with other men. They can't be bothered with children, and will not spoil their figures having them." "Idleness in women always leads to childlessness."

Dr. George F. Shrady says —"The fashionable women of today would rather have a dog than a baby."

Another physician who has had years of practice among the wealthy class, says —"When women have become accustomed to living for themselves, with nothing to interfere with their pleasure, they will not endure the trouble children bring."

It is such women as these who are deserving of censure not the thrifty conscientious woman whose income is barely equal to the proper bringing up of one child If a woman has ever worked for her living she realizes how difficult the fight is in the business world and when she marries she is cautious about creating another life to enter the struggle. But when business women do have children they are "the best of mothers' The working woman is the normal type It is the idle woman who is leading an unnatural life"

It is the lazy, selfish women who fill our apartment hotels and have no other ambition than their own pleasure that are the most serious menace to our civilization It is to the working woman, in the professions or in business, that we must look for the production of a vigorous, ambitious race. The idle woman is a parasite.

$27,500

On 8th street, between Clay and Washington streets, lot is 50x100 feet, 2 frame buildings Rents $60 a month, 8th street is the most direct through thoroughfare to East and West Oakland, and will be the main street to the new harbor that is to be built in West Oakland This property is near the transfer point for all the West Oakland traveling public in the heart of the business section near by ground has been broken for the construction of two new buildings and within 1½ blocks, three buildings have recently been erected being on the north side of the street makes it still more desirable There is nothing to be had in this block for less than $600 a foot, and very little at that, the price on this property figures $550 a foot with the buildings thrown in.

$28,000

On 7th street, between Clay and Jefferson sts, 1 store with 13 rooms in the rear Rents for $45 a month, lot 75x100 feet—note the frontage of this—splendid location for a manufacturing plant or wholesale house, the above price figures less than $400 a foot—ask any one in the neighborhood what they want for their property—note the difference, $18,000 cash, terms on the balance.

$14,300

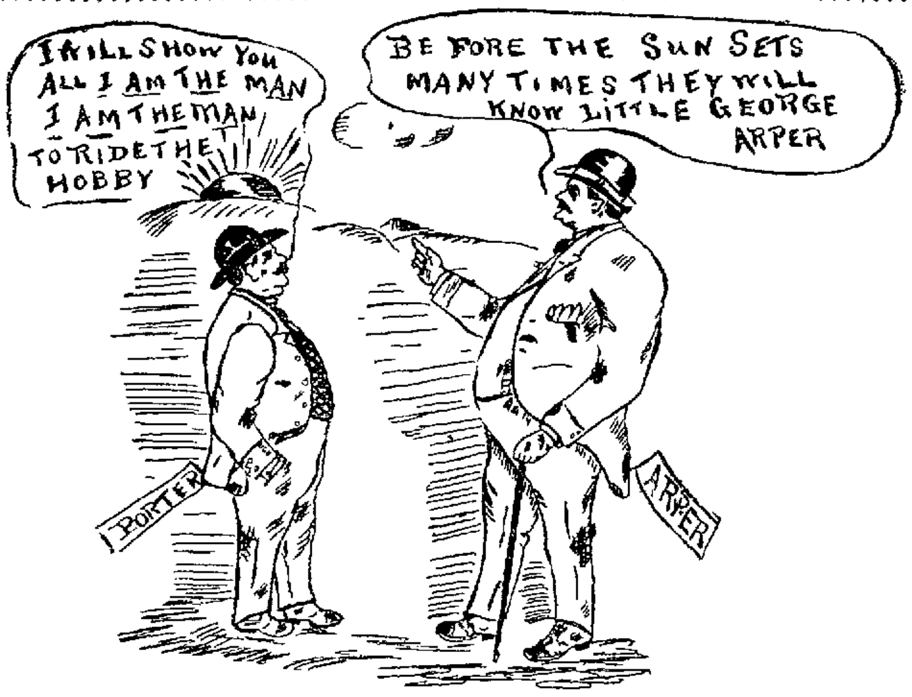

On 8th st., between Brush and West st., lot 50 x 100 ft. Four-flat building in fine condition. Annual rents amount to $1650; equal to 10 per cent on $16,500 investment. Income can be easily increased.

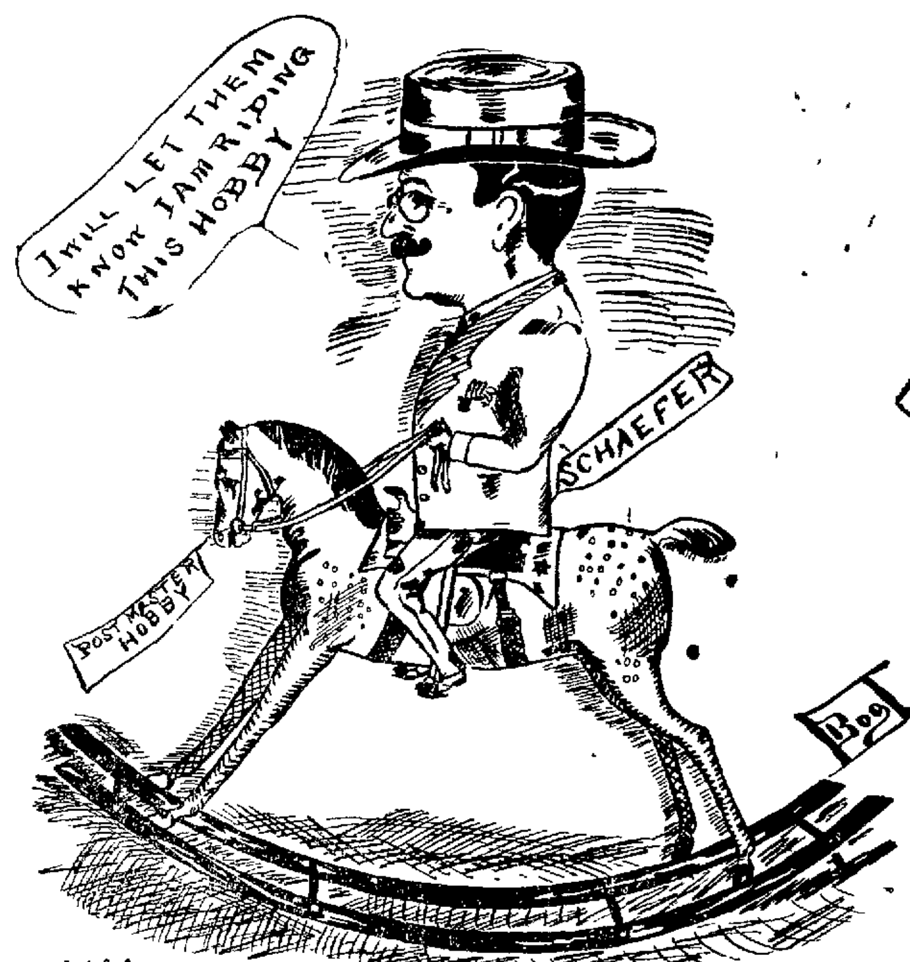

$12,500

On Castro street, between 10th and 11th, 45-foot frontage, 25 feet vacant, ample room for improvements; the residence is exceptionally well built and finished throughout in "curly" redwood. The lot alone is worth the price, only 5 minutes' walk from the business center; not a better buying opportunity on the list.

HOLD-UP MEN IN CHINATOWN

Bold Robberies in That District Have Been Reported to the Police

Precincts of Chinatown are now the rendezvous of several bold hold-ups, according to the reports received by the police. George P... has reported that last night about 11 o'clock as he was walking along ... street between ... and Webster streets he was held up by two masked and armed robbers who relieved him of $11 ... in coin and a ...

Frank Silva who was ... day night and taken to the police station on a charge of ... as he was ... street between Wallace and Webster streets he was set upon ... a silver watch ... condition and ... man cut his pocket from his coat.

Fire broke out this morning about 1:30 o'clock in Saroni's candy factory on Seventh near Clay street and resulted in about $ 00 damage. The origin of the blaze is unknown. It started in the stock room and considerable sugar was damaged by the fire and water.

POLICE HEAR OF CRIMES

Burglars Break Into Homes and Business Houses and Get Booty.

By prying the padlock from the door of ... Ben's shoe store at ... street last night burglars gained entrance to the place. The cash register was broken open and $9.50 in cash was stolen. The theft has been reported to the police.

... Favorell of 658 Washington street has reported that his saloon was entered early yesterday morning and $4 ... cash taken from the cash register which was smashed by the thief.

O. K. ... of the West Oakland House ... Seventh street asserts that his room was entered yesterday afternoon while he was asleep and the thief ransacked his wardrobe making it necessary that he secure a barrel and visit a friend in order to obtain suitable wearing apparel. The thief also stole $6 ... some keys and valuable papers.

The ... M. White at 813 Prendergast ... was broken into Saturday night and the thief obtained a gold watch and ... and $30 in coin.

NEW CAMP TO BE A WINNER

Mining Man Says Ludwig District Will Surpass Goldfield, Nev.

Nicholas J. Prendergast, secretary of the Bickel... Home Mining and Milling Company of Ludwig, Nevada, has just returned to Oakland after a tour of investigation of the company's properties and declares that it is the opinion of mining experts that the new camp will equal if not surpass the famous Goldfield ... of Nevada.

Mr. Prendergast says that the new camp has made wonderful progress within the last ... months and that the entire ... is dotted with miners' cabins and has an air of a bustling mining community.

The Buckskin camp is twenty miles from Wabuska... Nev., and situated right in the zone of the gold and copper belts. The miners in the neighborhood of ... anticipate a big boom.

The company is locating a town site and general merchandise store near the Ludwig mine and has christened the new town Ludwig in honor of the mines of that name. The conditions for a mining town are ideal. The town site is located sixty-five miles from Hinds Hot Springs. There is plenty of water in the camp. The agricultural conditions are excellent. The company intends to erect a modern hotel and the general store will be modern in all its appointments.

Ludwig is a part of West Yerington, which at present gives every indication of being the richest ore find in Nevada. It will rival the Goldfield camp, and no less an expert than Fitz-Mack, the famous mining writer, claims that there is more ore in sight in one mine (Ludwig) than in all the mines of Goldfield.

JAPS ORDER STEEL RAILS

Largest Tonnage Ever Made to Far East Contracted for by Government

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—A cablegram received here Saturday from the Japanese government called for the immediate shipment of the largest tonnage of steel rails ever made to the Far East and for which a premium will be paid.

Fifty thousand tons of steel rails have been ordered from the United States Steel Corporation. They will be rolled in the Carnegie mills and will weigh sixty pounds to the yard. So anxious are the Japanese to get the material as soon as possible that $28.50 per ton at the mills will be paid. The ruling quotation is $28.

The rails will be used for laying the first connections of the extensive network of railroads to be built in Manchuria by the Southern Manchuria Railway Company. In addition all the large contracts for locomotives, cars, bridges, etc., will be placed in this country.

To be free from sick headache, bilious[ness], constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

PRESCRIPTION FOR "CYCLONE" CATARRH CURE

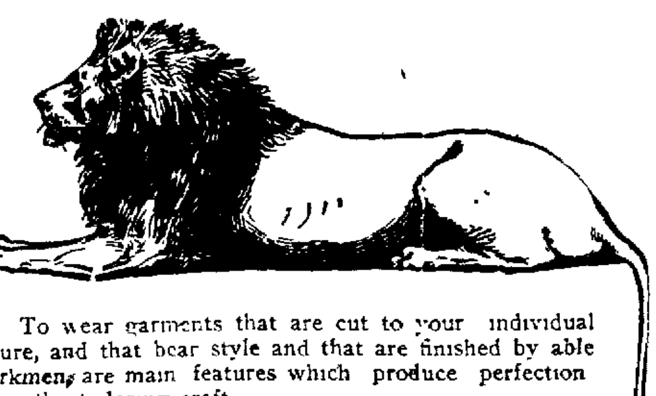

The name Cyclone is given to the following prescription. It is supposed because of its promptness in driving from the blood system every vestige of catarrhal poison. To prepare the mixture: Get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon and three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bed time.

This is a harmless inexpensive mixture which has a peculiar action upon the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys, assisting them to filter and strain from the blood and system the catarrhal poisons which if not eradicated, are absorbed by the mucous membrane, and an open sore or catarrh is the result.

Prepare some and try it any way, as it is the prescription of an eminent catarrh and throat specialist of national reputation.

CHINESE FORFIET $800 IN BAIL

About seventy Chinese gamblers arrested last night and Saturday night in raids on gambling dens in Chinatown failed to appear in the police courts this morning and their bail amounting to about $800 in the aggregate, was forfeited.

MEDICAL.

DR. SYLVESTER'S Office.
517 23d st. (near Telegraph ave.), Oakland, Cal.
Leading Specialist for Women.

Ladies—If you are suffering from any ailment peculiar to your sex, worried about your condition and need help, consult this famous specialist for the following reasons:

First—He is a well-trained physician and surgeon with qualifications recognized by the highest medical authority and truly the only regular graduate specialist for women advertising.

Second—With his painless and harmless methods known to no physician but himself he gives you relief—at once—without drugs, needless operations or detention from your occupation.

Third—His broad experience, his 19 years of success—without one single failure—with the most obstinate, obscure and complicated cases, where all others failed, makes him the—safest—and—surest—man to consult when you need help.

Why suffer disappointment, pain, anxiety and endanger your life and health by employing quacks and self-styled specialists when you may have advice from a man eminent in the profession absolutely free of charge?

His fees are moderate and you safely intrust yourself in his care and be assured of prompt and happy results.

Consultations sacredly confidential and a strictly private sanitarium when required.

Hours, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Open Sundays

DR. BURKE'S Sanitarium.

Every public institution has its varied annoyances by what is fittingly termed "The Buttinskee." The popular and prosperous sanitarium conducted by Dr. W. P. and Alfred Burke, situated near Santa Rosa, Sonoma co., is now experiencing a siege of this nature.

It is understood that thousands of circular letters have gone forth asking donations toward a building fund to increase facilities at this popular resort.

One would suppose that this institution was upon the verge of bankruptcy and had to appeal to the people in this way. The management of Dr. Burke's Sanitarium wishes to correct this erroneous impression and put the matter in its true light to its many patrons.

While the efforts of Mrs. and Miss Buttinskee are perhaps well intended, the sanitarium neither requires nor desires it and takes this method of advising its many patrons of the true state of affairs.

Residence Property

$4200

On 49th street east of Telegraph, lot 35x100, with a new and thoroughly modern 6 room house. There is plenty of room for a driveway; the sidewalks and street work are complete.

$4250

Lot 50x150, with a good 6 room house on East 22d near 7th avenue. This house is thoroughly modern; has a 7-foot basement and fronts south, giving it the full benefit of the sun. For climate there is no better location in Oakland.

$4500

Lot 50x100 on north side of 27th street between Grove and West, with a good 6 room cottage containing bath, laundry, and other modern conveniences. 27th street is a very wide street and this locality one of the most desirable for homes.

$4500

Fine new 6 room cottage with gas, electricity and all the essential requirements necessary in the make up of a thoroughly modern home. Located near San Pablo avenue on 36th street, lot 31.6x106.

$6500

Near Telegraph on 27th street, lot 40x150, with a good 7 room house and a 2 room cottage in the rear. This could be used for a garage, as the property already has a driveway. Without question this is one of the cheapest properties in this district, which is considered the best in Oakland for general conveniences.

INVESTMENTS

$3600

On San Pablo near 56th street, lot 40x100. This is $90 per foot and is, although small, one of the best buys to be had on the avenue.

$10,000

Here is a good 10 room house that could easily be converted into three flats which would bring a handsome income on the investment. The lot is 50x138 and is located very close to Grove street. This is a first-class property and by rearrangement as above mentioned will bring a first-class income and would easily sell at an advanced figure.

$16,500

San Pablo avenue frontage near 25th street with old improvements, bringing a sufficient rental to pay better than bank interest on the investment. This property has a splendid future and will double in value within a year's time.

$21,000

The northwest corner of 12th and West, 70x100, with a fine 15 room house, a portion of which is rented for $125 per month. This property would easily bring a total rental of $225 per month, which would amount to approximately 13 per cent on the investment. This frontage is rapidly enhancing in value and considering the improvements is worth more money at the present time.

AUSTIN SAYS:

Get up into the tallest building in Oakland and look out San Pablo ave.

Then go out.

Aside from the wretched surface condition, which won't last long, just ask yourself, fairly and squarely:

"Where will the business go, as it is gradually crowded out of the center of town?"

Then leave your money in the bank at three or four percent a year and watch other people make 50 per cent in six months by acting on this hint.

Remember, San Pablo ave. will be bituminized soon.

FOR $100 I will sell you a lot 50x100 feet; $10 down and $5 monthly; no taxes, no interest. J. W. Barnett, Room 1, 1018 Washington st.

SPECULATORS ATTENTION

Here are three properties on which you can make no mistake. Any agent will tell you they are good value for the money.

INVESTIGATE

$30,000

On Broadway, 150 feet from 20th st., 50x170. This lot is opposite property which recently sold for $1000 per foot. We can absolutely deliver this for the price named and it will not last long. This property will sell for $1000 per foot within one year when the Narrow Gauge is extended to 20th st.

$15,000

On Broadway we have for a few days only, 25x175, within 200 feet of 20th st. It is the best buy on the market today. We recommend this strongly.

$18,000

A beautiful Madison st. Mansion of 16 rooms; lot 80x150, near Lake st. This lot alone is worth the money. The house, which is large and imposing has recently been thoroughly overhauled at a cost of $2000 has fine lawn and shrubbery, and is rented for $100. Would easily bring $150.

This property should appeal to any speculator. It is an elegant home, all ready to move into, and has the best of prospects, being situated in the best district in Oakland for first-class private hotel or apartments.

Property almost back of this, and on the wrong side of the street, is held at $30,000.

Large Warehouse and Factory site near Broadway on railroad line at bargain, $125 per foot. Will sell for $200 within one year. This is the cheapest warehouse site in either Oakland or San Francisco.

$25,000

Corner, 100x75, on line of Western Pacific, four blocks from Broadway; a good buy; great future; income $2400 per annum; rents very low.

$15,000

Lot, 27x150, with old improvements renting for $100 per month; will stand raise to $150 per month; this property is located on 9th st., one block and a half from Broadway.

$12,000

Fine dwelling, 10 rooms; lot 45x100, on Webster st., inside of 22nd st., only two blocks from Key Route depot, and sure to increase in value.

$5500

If you want a home with good chance for increase of realty, look at this positive snap; lot 50x150; 2-story house 13 rooms and bath, on Broadway.

$4500

Cottage, large lot, within walking distance; 5 rooms and bath, a very attractive home and well worth the money.

$2250

Cottage 4 rooms and kitchen, 26th st., near San Pablo ave.; rented for $20 per month; no lease; within walking distance.

$2100

LADY BOUNTIFUL TO THE SCOTS

The Duchess of Roxburghe is appearing in a new role—that of Lady Bountiful. Heretofore she has shown no great prodigality in expending the Goelet millions, but at Christmas she opened her pursestrings wide, as though bent on making amends for neglected opportunities and establishing a record. And she succeeded. Her gifts and benefactions to the servants and employes on the duke's estate, and the poor and needy in the vicinity of Floors castle, represented in the vicinity of over $20,000. Tons of toys were ordered by her from London, Glasgow and Edinburgh shops and distributed with lavish generosity. All in the neighborhood who could advance any claim to be numbered among the poor, were regaled with a sumptuous Christmas dinner. The popularity of the duchess has risen enormously in consequence. The canny Scots are hoping that having established such a reputation she will continue to live up to it.

The duchess is having built a miniature zoo at the Floors castle, feeling she must do something to enliven the dull place. The historic seat of the Kers is the gloomiest and weirdest castle in a land noted for its ghostly mansions. Floors looks more like a barracks or a prison than a country seat, but Roxburghe will live there nine months out of the twelve, and the duchess accepts the situation with the best possible grace.

In the duchess' zoo there are to be only pretty and interesting animals. Lions, tigers or snakes are to find no home therein. The aviary will be most interesting, and she hopes to place in it a specimen of every class of beautiful bird in existence. There is also to be an abode for fish, only however, of the decorative order. Every kind of goldfish will be represented. The duchess has already a large collection of fish and is very proud of the fact that she has succeeded in getting some of them to show distinct credit that fish can be tamed. The duchess' friends, who have been lately at Floors, say for a certainty she has accomplished this.—Boston Globe.

AN INNOCENT ONLOOKER.

Methuselah was walking in his garden.

"My goodness," he exclaimed suddenly, "there's another flower on that century plant! Why, it seems but yesterday since I plucked a blossom from it."

He walked slowly toward an oak tree 200 years old which he had tenderly raised from an acorn.

"Ah me," he mused, "how time flies!"—Harper's Weekly.

NOTICE OF SALE.

In accordance with the terms and under the authority of a certain deed of trust executed by Frank H. Horswill and Ida M. Horswill, his wife, of the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, the parties of the first part, to Frank H. Graham and William Austin, Trustees, parties of the second part and George W. Austin, party of the third part, dated February 11th, 1904, and recorded in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Alameda, State of California, in Liber 958 of Deeds, at page 234, et seq., and in pursuance of written direction and authority duly given and made to Frank H. Graham and William Austin, by said George W. Austin, the holder of the promissory note, made by said first parties to secure the payment of which the aforesaid deed was executed, declaring that default had been made in the payment of the interest and other sums due under said note and deed of trust, and requesting and directing the said undersigned, Frank H. Graham and William Austin, to sell the real estate described therein, together with the appurtenances, to satisfy said indebtedness;

We, the said Frank H. Graham and William Austin, trustees, under said deed of trust, do hereby give notice that on Monday, the 25th day of March, 1907, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, in front of the County Courthouse in the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, we will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, gold coin of the United States, that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, and more particularly described as follows, to wit:

Commencing at a point on the northern line of 21st or Hobart Street, distant thereon two hundred and fifty (250) feet westerly from the point of intersection thereof with the western line of Telegraph avenue; and running thence westerly along said line of 21st or Hobart Street thirty (30) feet; thence at right angles northerly one hundred (100) feet; thence at right angles easterly thirty (30) feet; and thence at right angles southerly one hundred (100) feet to the point of commencement.

Being portions of Lots Nos. 9 and 11 as laid down and delineated upon a certain Map entitled "Corrected Map of the Jones Tract, subdivided July 25, 1874, M. G. King, Surveyor, Oakland," filed December 12, 1874, in the office of the County Recorder of said Alameda County.

Terms of Sale: Cash, gold coin of the United States, ten per cent payable to the undersigned on the fall of the hammer, balance on delivery of deed, and if not so paid, unless for want of title (ten days being allowed for search), then said ten per cent to be forfeited and said sale to be void after the expiration of said ten days. The said George W. Austin, the holder of said indebtedness, or any other person may purchase at the said sale. All acts of sale at purchaser's expense.

Dated February 21st, 1907.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Lower prices for stocks were made with the resumption of trade today. Declines generally were limited to within a half point. The exceptions were Pacific Mail, which declined 2; Anaconda 2¼, Missouri Pacific 1½, Reading 1¼, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Amalgamated Copper and Sugar large fractions.

The most active stocks came into demand at the low level and recovered partially.

The market became dull and heavy after the prices had declined further. Reading fell 2. Fractional recoveries followed the selling pressure.

Bonds were easy.

Average losses reached a point or more.

Reading extended its rally to a point, but as the general market failed to keep pace with it, the professionals again attacked prices. Reading and Union Pacific sold lower than in the forenoon. Baltimore & Ohio and Alton fell 2.

COTTON.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Cotton—spot closed steady, middling uplands, 11c; middling gulf 11.25. Sales 72 bales.

LATEST NEWS FROM NEVADA GOLDFIELDS

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Feb. 25.—Within a very few days two shippers will be added to the list of Goldfield producers, the Higginson and Mohawk ledge lessers on Jumbo Extension, although, for that matter, the Higginson has already shipped from its old workings nearly enough ore to pay for the work done there.

The new hoist on the Mohawk Ledge is in shape and the workings have been mucked out. It will require only a few days' work to reach the point where the ledge from the Higginson enters their ground.

A spur track is being surveyed to the Mohawk Ledge and Higginson dumps. Track will be laid at once so that shipments can be made without teaming. The heavy electricity driven hoist is in place on the Higginson and the pump installed. A station is being cut at the 535 level and stoping will begin next week. There will doubtless be a tremendous tonnage extracted from both properties, as the ledge cut in the Higginson, which cannot escape continuing through Mohawk ground, is fourteen feet wide and carries shipping values for nearly its entire width.

RICH ORE CHAMBER.

Owing to a delay in shipping a small but important piece of machinery, the hoist on the Higginson lease on Jumbo Extension was tie up nearly all week, to the exasperation of the management and stockholders, for the station is already cut in the rich ore chamber and all is in readiness for beginning extraction of ore.

Within a few days the spur will be built to the property and the first carload of bonanza ore will leave the property. The Higginson will be stoped to the northwest, in the direction of the old shaft, where the vein was first discovered. The shaft will be sunk as speedily as possible to the next level and a crosscut run to pick up the ledge again at the southeastern end of the block, giving backs that can hardly be extracted during the life of the lease.

TAKES LEASE.

The Homer Wilson Trust Company recently took over lease No. 3 on the Combination, and are pushing operations to the limit. Three shifts are engaged in sinking the shaft as rapidly as possible, and at present the men are making six feet per day.

Day before yesterday a two-foot vein was struck in the bottom of the shaft, and the character of the ore is identical to that of the famous Mohawk at the same level. The shaft is at present 150 feet deep, and no drifting or crosscutting will be done until the 200-foot level is reached. A station will then be cut, and prospecting done from this level, while the shaft will be continued to 300 feet, when similar operations will be commenced.

A 25-horse power hoist is in operation, and the company has full equipment for steady operations. While the lease is incorporated, no stock is at present being offered.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The wheat market today opened easier on liberal receipts in the northwest and favorable weather in that section and for an increase in the crop movement. May wheat opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 78 to 78 1-8c and sold at 77 7-8c.

Trading was active in the corn market and prices were somewhat easier. Local holders sold freely upon the fact that the day's arrivals were heavier than had been expected.

May corn opened a shade to ⅛c lower at 47⅝c to 47¾c.

The oats market was steady and fairly active. May opened a shade lower at ⅛@¼c higher at 42 to 42¼c.

The provisions market was quiet and steady. A fair demand for pork caused a slight advance at the opening. May pork opened 10c higher at $16.80. Lard was unchanged at $9.50 and ribs were unchanged at $9.30.

Corn—No. 2, —; No. 3, 42¾@43¼.

Oats—No. 2, 40½@41c; No. 3, 40¼c.

The market became strong about the middle of the session on reports of a good demand for export. The low point for May was 77¾c and from here it sold to 78⅝@78¾c, closing firm ⅛@¼c up at 78¼c.

MAN SUMMONED FROM BENCH

Superior Court Issues Warrant for Thomas Middlemas—Trial Is Set.

Thomas Middlemiss, who is accused by A. F. Derrick of selling him an alleged interest in an automobile and auto garage for $850, when there was actually nothing at all that changed hands for the consideration except a worthless receipt, appeared in the Superior Court this morning and entered a plea of not guilty. A bench warrant was issued to summon the defendant, who is out on bail. His trial was set for Monday, April 15.

HARRIMAN WILL NOT ANSWER

Magnate Refuses to Divulge Individual Holdings of Stock.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Chairman Knapp announced today that without going outside of the facts of this hearing, the commissioners felt they were entitled to know what stocks Mr. Harriman owned, that he ruled there must be an answer as to Mr. Harriman's individual holdings of stock.

Mr. Milburn announced that Mr. Harriman would decline to answer and seek all protection available in the courts.

GAS EXPLODES FIRE FOLLOWS

Building at Sandusky, O., in Ruins—Panic Among the Girls in Laundry.

SANDSKY, Ohio, Feb. 25.—Accumulated gas in the basement of the Bittner building, a three-story brick structure on Market street, in the heart of the city, exploded with terrific force today.

The building and the big stock of furniture of Dilgart & Bittner, retail dealers, was destroyed. Thirty girls employed in a laundry next door were thrown into a panic. Several of them fainted and had to be carried out.

The firemen were unable to combat the flames owing to low water and the whole city square opposite the federal building seemed doomed.

Report Is to Effect That Coaches Overturned Near Unadilla, Ga.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 25.—It is reported that a passenger train on the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad has been overturned south of Unadilla, and is in flames. Unadilla is 40 miles south of Macon.

RULE FOR SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

Provides Further Efforts Be Devoted to General Debate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The committee on rules has presented a rule that the ship subsidy bill shal be taken up and further efforts be devoted to general debate.

After the general debate is terminated the house substitute to the Senate bill shall be read for amendment under the five-minute rule, and on Friday, at 3 o'clock, the committee of the whole shall rise and report the bill and put it on final passage. Mr. Williams demanded the ayes and nays on the previous question.

ACTIONS IN THE BAILEY CASE

Texas Senate Discharges Investigating Committee by Close Vote.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 25.—By a vote of 15 to 11, the Texas Senate today discharged the investigating committee which has been in session several weeks looking into charges against Senator Joseph W. Bailey.

At 11 o'clock the anti-Bailey following offered a resolution instructing the committee not to bring in a report at that time, but to send a subcommittee to St. Louis to obtain the testimony of H. Clay Pierce and to embody such evidence in its final report.

Adherents of Senator Bailey promptly offered a substitute that the investigating committee be discharged at once, and that Senator Bailey be fully endorsed. After a heated debate, the substitution resolution was passed. Mr. Bailey's followers contended that every member of the Legislature as well as the public was fully acquainted with all the details of the evidence and Senate members could now vote upon the question.

The issue of discharging the committee will now come up in the house this afternoon or tomorrow.

DESERTED WIFE APPEALS TO POLICE

Believing her husband to be seriously ill in some hospital, Mrs. H. C. Gould has arrived in this city from Little Rock, Arkansas, seeking information concerning her spouse. Mrs. Gould has appealed to the police. She is temporarily residing at the Gibson Hotel on Clay, near Tenth street, and would be pleased to learn of her husband's whereabouts.

About two years ago, Gould went to Los Angeles from his home in Little Rock. He then went to San Mateo and was employed as a bookkeeper in a lumber yard. This was eight months ago. About three weeks ago, Mrs. Gould received a letter from her husband, in which he stated that he was suffering from bloodpoisoning in his arms and would probably have to give up his employment. A week later. A week later Mrs. Gould received a letter, postmarked "Oakland" and containing a few clippings. She feared that her husband was seriously ill and hurried to this city to render aid. All the hospitals have been consulted, but Mrs. Gould can gain no information concerning her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Gould have not met for two years.

TELLS ABOUT POLITICAL LIFE

"County Chairman" Will Be Seen at the Macdonough Tonight.

It is no poetic passion of the past, no condescending scene of rural simplicity, that makes men delight in such pictures of village life as we have in George Ade's "The County Chairman," which is offered at the Macdonough tonight, tomorrow night and Wednesday night. "The County Chairman" appeals with peculiar force to this community, where so many thousands were not to the city born, but came from the small town and the country side. Made-to-order rural drama, composed of equal parts of snowstorm and repentent wayward girl, does not present itself to such audiences as precisely the real thing, but this play by Mr. Ade they recognize as an unaffected, undecorated transcript of life. The people in it fight out their battles with a delicious absence of convention heroics; they are human, fallible creatures, and they do not rush impetuously upon the big moments of virtuous self-sacrifice or of black villains. "The County Chairman" is a homely, unassuming effort—the human element is there; and because Mr. Ade had defined it so genuinely and so simply, he has succeeded in touching the heart and stirring the imagination in a very uncommon degree.

LONDON, May 19.—"Olive Oil and plenty of it" was the prescription of one of the King's physicians for the restoration of a clear and rosy complexion to a reigning beauty of the London season. She followed his advice, and found it so good that she began to give "beauty luncheons" to her friends, where olive oil entered largely into the menu. The wonderful effect of a "lubricating diet" on a woman's complexion made these olive oil repasts a great success.

The influence of olive oil on the skin is effected through its healthy action on the fat, which is the food of the skin. It is said that to keep one's skin in perfect health, one need only take from one to two tablespoonfuls of olive oil, in different ways during the day.

SPECIAL VOTE COUPONS MUST BE IN TONIGHT

E. K. HEALY, Letter Carrier, Alameda, entered in Tribune Popularity Contest.

Regular Votes for Tribune's Prizes Will Be Received Until Thursday Evening This Week.

All of the special vote coupons of ten votes each must be in the office by 10 o'clock tonight. Otherwise they will not be counted. From now until the close of the contest, Thursday, February 28, only the regular certificates will be issued on the subscriptions brought in.

Make the final stand during the next three days for one of the rich prizes.

As the result of a week of active campaigning the scores of several of the contestants are materially benefited. Their total scores do not appear in the paper, as they are holding back a good reserve fund to use in the final rush.

RESERVE FUND.

It is only natural that a candidate would have in reserve a fund sufficient to meet any demand for a showing as to who can put up the strongest fight if it is offered.

The prizes given away by the TRIBUNE in the greatest popularity contest ever held on the Pacific Coast equals anything given by any newspaper as prizes to popular people.

The building lot in East Oakland, instead of being as originally intended, worth $750, is valued at $800, thus adding to the prize $50. The sewing machine for the most popular woman in Alameda, Berkeley and Oakland is much better than promised, and are valued at $75, increasing the machines $25.

It shows how the TRIBUNE wishes to reward the contestants for doing such nice work during the contest period.

$100 TO PIANO.

One hundred dollars was added to the Chickering Baby Grand piano, which one of the fair contestants will win, and of which she may well be proud.

The Singer sewing machine was purchased from F. S. Prescott & Sons, 1056 Washington street. It is requested that the women who are in the contest call and inspect the machine.

BICYCLE A BEAUTY.

The Pierce bicycle is a beauty and no doubt the lucky ones will be glad they worked so hard to earn them.

Specifications: Regular, frame and rims, black; options, bright carmine, with aluminum finished rims; forks, black, nickel crown; tires, Goodrich No. 19, 1 3-8 inch or 1 1-2 inch; saddle, wheeler No. 10, Wheeler extra or Persons; handle bar, Hussey No. 4, No. 218, or No. 211; cranks, 7-inch; chain, 3-16 inch Whitney special; gear, 84; pedals, Bridgeport rubbed. With Pierce New Departure coaster brake.

The policemen in Alameda and Berkeley will have no cause to regret making the fight for the revolvers, as they are the best that money can buy and are on exhibition at Britton & Co., successors to Frank K. Mott Co., cor. Eighth and Broadway. They are regulation army and police Smith & Wesson 38 caliber revolvers, four-inch barrel, blue steel finish, pearl handles, handsome polster and 500 rounds of ammunition.

Should any party in interest doubt the accuracy of the counts and wish a recount of the votes for any or all of the contestants the TRIBUNE is willing to submit the ballots for a review by the contestants themselves or a committee chosen to represent them. If a misttake can be proven in the score of any contestant it will be cheerfully corrected and proper amends will be made if an error has been made in the awarding of the prizes.

DR. LYMAN ABBOTT PRAISES ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—In an address delivered Sunday before the People's Forum in New Rochelle, the Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott said a good word for the corporations and at the same time praised President Roosevelt for his policy. The President, he said, was exercising more control over his legislation than any other executive who had occupied the White House, but he said the President was not seeking to attain legislative ends by the exercise of patronage.

"It is because the American people are with him," he said, "that the President has been able to get some good legislation."

The speaker decried the feeling against trusts, as he said that trusts and combinations were agencies for good when they were honestly conducted.

"It is the abuses that have crept into these corporations, and not their existence, which have made some of them obnoxious," he said.

"To Keep Well

The whole year through," writes L. A. Bartlet, of Rural Route 1, Guilford, Me., "I and my family use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They have proven most satisfactory to all of us." They tone the system and cure biliousness, malaria and constipation. Guaranteed by Osgood Bros., Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington streets.

CAR SHORTAGE CAUSES WORRY

Southern Pacific Manager Orders Agents to Unload Quickly as Possible.

General Manager E. E. Calvin of the Southern Pacific has issued a circular letter to officers and agents on the prevailing car shortage. In his letter Mr. Calvin requests officers and agents coming in contact with shippers to urge the latter to unload as quickly as possible, thereby enabling the company to keep cars in use more constantly than is the case at present. Continuing, the letter sets forth:

"It has been computed that the average time consumed in loading and unloading freight cars throughout the country is nine days. If reduced one-half (4½ days would seem to be an ample allowance) it would be equivalent to adding 1,700,000 cars to the equipment of the roads of the country. That this would be more than sufficient to meet the demands of traffice for many years to come must be admitted.

"The release of cars within the shorter period of time could be effected with only slightly increased expense, while to build the additional number of cars named would cost the enormous sum of $1,300,000,000. This at four per cent would add to the annual charges of the railroads $52,000,000. It is plain that they would be obliged to collect this from the public in the shape of increased rates; and it is thus equally apparent that it is greatly to the interests of the public that shippers release cars with the utmost promptness at all times.

"The car shortage which has existed on this company's lines for several months past was largely contributed to by the San Francisco fire of April last. That disaster, which destroyed practically all stores and warehouses in San Francisco, left the merchants of this city with no place in which to store goods, with stocks of which they were obliged to immediately supply themselves in order to continue in business, and the result was a very great accumulation of cars which could not be unloaded; and further, in recognition of the unfortunate situation of merchants and others doing business, the demurrage rule was entirely suspended during the months of May and June, the railroad in this way having supplied many hundreds of cars for use as storehouses without charge to shippers.

"This accumulation of cars not only resulted in tying up that number, which would have been otherwise available for additional shipments, but owing to crowded condition of yards it also retarded the movement of other traffic and added to the number of crippled cars—the figure for the latter for a period of six months having been fully double what it is under normal conditions.

"In the year 1906 orders were placed for nearly 4,000 freight cars and 140 locomotives for use on the Pacific system during the current year. We are also adding to our terminal facilities at all important points as rapidly as material can be secured."

LADIES FREE AT LAKESIDE TONIGHT

Lakeside rink begins the week with ladies' night this evening, when fair skaters will be admitted free. There will be a handsome door prize for some lucky patron. Messrs. Young and Coleman, quick to appreciate the popularity of the virginia reel, have arranged to give instruction free to all who wish to learn how gracefully to enjoy this pretty dance on skates.

Tuesday night's attraction is a Dutch race contest for couples. Wednesday night there will be a barrel race.

The big bicycle race will be held Thursday night with crack teams entered from San Francisco, San Jose and Sacramento. It will be the big indoor athletic event of the season and the crowds of supporters of each team will be present.

SEES SUCCESS IN BIG AIRSHIP

Charles H. Tolliver of Pleasanton Soon to Start Out on Voyage.

The 225-foot airship, being prepared for flight by inventor Charles T. Tolliver, at Pleasanton, in Alameda county, will sail over San Francisco within the week on its initial 200-mile voyage.

Mr. and Mrs. Tolliver have worked side by side in the manufacture of this great car and the completion of their efforts has cost years of work and $72,000.

The airship is cigar shaped and weighs 7100 pounds. There are 5800 yards of pongee in the big bag. It measures 225 feet in length and has a diameter of forty feet. The frame structure is built of 18,000 feet of aluminum and has four engines to drive the six propellers that project from the ends and sides.

The word "failure" is not in the vocabulary of Mr. Tolliver, and he is confident his aeria. machine will carry its full quota of passengers and operators as safely as do present day land vehicles.

CONSTABLE IS UNDER ARREST

Oakland Officer Charged With Drunkenness by San Francisco Police.

James Shaw, a deputy constable from Oakland, was arrested at Sacramento and Market streets, San Francisco, yesterday by Policeman George Tracy on the charge of drunkenness. Before his arrest Shaw had borrowed $1 from a one-legged cripple, giving the unfortunate a cheap watch as a pledge. He had also pledged his watch chain for a 50-cent loan from a cripple who had no legs at all. Shaw's badge of office was taken from him and it will be held by the police until his superior is heard from.

TAX AFFAIRS ARE DISCUSSED

Johnson Makes Solons of State "Sit Up and Take Notice."

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 23.—Grove L. Johnson made his fellow members "sit up and take notice" yesterday afternoon when he antagonized the revenue and taxation measure found in senate constitutional amendment No. 1, providing for the separation of state and local taxation.

Johnson said he opposed the measure because it was impracticable and dangerous. It placed a burden on insurance companies that would make the rates of insurance in this state prohibitive. It provided for the taxing of National banks, and this he thought was illegal. He had found the old system satisfactory and this was a new thing putting the taxation on the people improperly and unequally. The bill would not be at all satisfactory to the general public.

Frank Devlin in defense of the measure said it increased the taxation on all corporations, public utilities, railroads, street railways, express companies, private car companies, and in fact made the corporations pay the state tax. This left the real estate tax to be made by communities and reduced the burden, making the public utilities and corporations pay their proportion of taxation for running the government. He further said it was not a new measure as it had been successfully tried in several of the eastern states and worked well. The best points in the laws of these states had been embodied in the measure presented and the amendment to be presented to the people was the finest that could be put up. It is a change from the antiquated system under which we are now working and brings about a better arrangement in the taxation of both state and local communities.

The measure was finally adopted in the assembly by a vote of 66 ayes to 0 noes. Johnson voted aye, and immediately gave notice of his intention to call for reconsideration. The bill has passed the senate and will now go to the governor for his approval, unless it is reconsidered, under Johnson's motion. The bill follows closely on the lines laid down by the committee on revenue and taxation appointed at the last session of the legislature, and is considered a strong measure.

WAITRESS BEGINS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Katie V. Barber has begun action in the Superior Court for a divorce from George H. Barber. Mrs. Barber alleges in the complaint that has been filed with the county clerk that her husband has not lived up to the vows taken before the altar.

"He has made me earn my own living," says the complaint, "and I have been obliged to maintain myself most all the time during our married life. Why, I even have to buy my own clothes. He has ceased to love me, and I don't see as I should be obliged to be under any obligations to him. I certainly think I am entitled to a divorce on the grounds of failure to provide.

"I make my own livelihood by working as a waitress in a restaurant."

BEGINS ACTION TO EJECT TENANT

The Larue Wharf and Warehouse Company filed a complaint this morning against Frederick C. Hampel to eject him from the property at Union place and Fifteenth avenue. The warehouse people claim that Hampel has refused to move from the premises, which they have owned since May 6, 1906. The complaint asks for $250 damages, $50 rent and profits derived from the land since last May.

BILL FAVORS COLORED MAN

Measure Intended to Help Negro to Be Introduced in the Legislature.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 23.—One of the measures on which there is bound to be a fight, and which has not been presented to date, but will be early next week, is one that calls for more stringent application of civil rights for the negro.

While there is a law on the statute books at this time covering this provision, and in effect says that negroes shall be admitted to all places of amusement and the fact that the sign "Colored trade not solicited or wanted" is found in many places of business where the liquid refreshment is to be found. They are also charged exorbitantly for meals in certain restaurants. These are the things that have been "nagging" at the vitals of the colored citizen, and seems to make him feel that the letter of the law as laid down in the fifteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States is not being fully carried out.

To remedy these there will be a bill introduced into the legislature that will make the colored man acceptable to everybody and without overcharging; that is, he will be served in every place where the white brother is given entertainment. This seems to be the gist of the complaint of the colored delegation that is now here looking after the bill, and they think it will carry. As a matter of fact, the bill that will be introduced by request by Senator McCartney in the senate and Assemblyman Transue in the lower houses, will have a hard time, and it is not thought it will have a ghost of a chance of carrying.

The fight for recognition is being looked after by James Alexander of Los Angeles, a leading colored politician of the southern city, and he is very confident it will meet with approbation, but from the remarks made by members of the legislature it can be said there will be no amendments made that will affect the civil rights bill as it is on the law books at this time.

CHARLES E. TUTT IS LAID TO REST

The funeral of Charles E. Tutt, brother of E. R. Tutt, the well-known business man of this city, took place from the residence on Michigan avenue, Elmhurst, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Gerrion. Commander Van De Mark of Lyon Post, No. 8, G. A. R., made a brief address. Mr. Tutt having been a member of that several years. A Grand Army service was conducted at Evergreen cemetery. The pallbearers were all members of the G. A. R., William Van De Mark, J. A. Colquhoun, J. W. Wilbur, H. D. Crowe, Louis Jurgens of Lyon Post and Charles L. Metzgar of Joe Hooker Post No. 11, Alameda. Mr. Tutt is survived by a widow and son, his mother and brother. He was a native of South Bend, Ind., and served in the Eighty-seventh regiment of Indiana volunteers, during the Civil War, coming to California in 1879, and going into business in Eureka. He came to Oakland in 1903 and more recently established his home in Elmhurst.

TRIES TO BLOW UP CHIEF OF POLICE

ODESSA, Feb. 23.—A bomb was thrown beneath the carriage of the chief of the police, Colonel Von Gessenberg, as he was driving in the center of the city this afternoon. The explosion of the bomb wrecked the carriage, severely injuring the chief of police and scattered debris all over the block and broke windows of all the houses in the vicinity.

The would-be assassin escaped.

Lasting Results from using NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

"I am blessed with an abundance of long hair and I use the utmost care in the preservation of it. I have never found anything that pleases me as much as Newbro's Herpicide. It keeps the scalp clean and sanitary and adds a luxurious appearance to my hair that no other preparation will give. I consider it most delightful to use and I can truly say that I prefer it above all other preparations for the hair. I like your soap also and can recommend both highly to any lady who wishes a good head of hair."

While it is not natural for everyone to have extremely long hair, it is possible for every lady to have beautiful hair, for when the scalp is not diseased, the hair will grow naturally and abundantly.

The chief disease of the scalp is dandruff—which is highly contagious—and dandruff is now known to be caused by an invisible vegetable growth called the dandruff germ. Ordinarily, the first signs of scalp infection are dryness, dullness and brittleness of the hair, although the disease sometimes causes excessive oiliness. Following this, the hair loses its lustre, the scalp itches more or less and dandruff appears. Falling hair and baldness represent the last stages of hair destruction.

Newbro's Herpicide—the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ---will cure any stage of this disease, except chronic baldness, which is incurable. Herpicide not only destroys the dandruff germ and stops falling hair, but it is a most exquisite hair dressing, making the hair light and fluffy and giving it a silken gloss. Almost marvelous results sometime follow the continued use of Herpicide. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Is YOUR boy at the Gang age?

You may call them "Edward's playmates," but Eddie calls them "the gang."

No mother or association of mothers can abolish "the gang"—but the wise mother helps mould "the gang." You will find much of help, much of interest and much of amusement, too, on "the growing boy problem" in the

Woman's Home Companion

Edward Everett Hale, Dan Beard, Margaret E. Sangster, Jeannette Porter (Aunt Janet), every one of them a keen student of Young America, are some of the personalities you will meet in its pages.

But all of the March Woman's Home Companion is not devoted to the youngster problem—only a small part, in fact. There is delightful fiction by Josephine Daskam, by Jean Webster and by Zona Gale.

There is an article—intensely interesting—on the Woman of Millions and there are Ten Departments whose strength and comprehensiveness are excelled by no magazine in the land, no matter what its selling price—departments which put the Woman's Home Companion out of the "evening lamp" class and make it in fact as well as name the Woman's Home Companion for the working day-light hours—the hours of planning and execution.
